'God's Chillun Got Missiles'

It was Nikita Khrushchev, of course, who touched off this idea of a monstrous parody of the old spiritual titled, "All God's Chillun Got Shoes." The way this baldish, stocky Russian Communist leader makes it read is pretty grim and has no lilt in it:

"I got missiles,
You got missiles,
All of God's chillun got missiles.
They can fire way up in God's heaven,
And when they get up high
They fall right down,
And blow all God's chillun to hell,
Or Heaven! Heaven! Heaven!
Gonna blow all of God's chillun away."

There is, indeed, as the Communist leader indicates, a race to see who will blow whom first.

It is evil and foreboding. It means high taxes. It means living in a state of tension.

We, the United States, have a "crash program" in missiles. The word itself comes from the Latin "missilis," and it means "to cause to go," or "to send."

Chiefly because of the inertia of the Republican secretary of defense, who cut back heavily, there was a delay, maybe costly, in our program. How costly we won't know unless, and until, war comes. Now we are on a "crash" or "don't count the pennies" schedule.

The weak can't. The strong may.

"ICBM"

The Russians are believed to be ahead of us in the development on an "ICBM" (Intercontinental Ballistic Missile).

The reason they are thought to be in the lead is that when the great war ended they took captured German rocket scientists and put them to work with unlimited resources. A totalitarian country which holds down the standard of living of its own people can carry on constant "crash" programs. They take it out of the people.

We, too, had some German scientists. They were the ones who in 1944 began to bombard London and later Belgium with the V-1 and V-2 rockets. Had those gruesome weapons been armed with atomic warheads they would not merely have reduced much of London to rubble, but would have rendered it unrestorable because of radioactivity.

Apparently the Russians began early with long-range rocket programs. We did not. We were tardy. Then the Eisenhower administration interposed financial restrictions.

Now we are hurrying.

It is highly secret, but North American has been allowed to announce it is at work on the "Navajo"—an ICBM.

Motors

The rocket motors seen there on a recent visit appeared to be about five feet tall. They looked, at a distance, like a piece of metal constructed to demonstrate the corsets of an older era when ladies laced themselves tightly in the middle.

They produce a display of the fundamentalists' concept of the deepest and most fiery hell.

The real problem is the thermal barrier heat. An ICBM, fueled for 5,000 miles, would attain an elevation of about 500 miles.

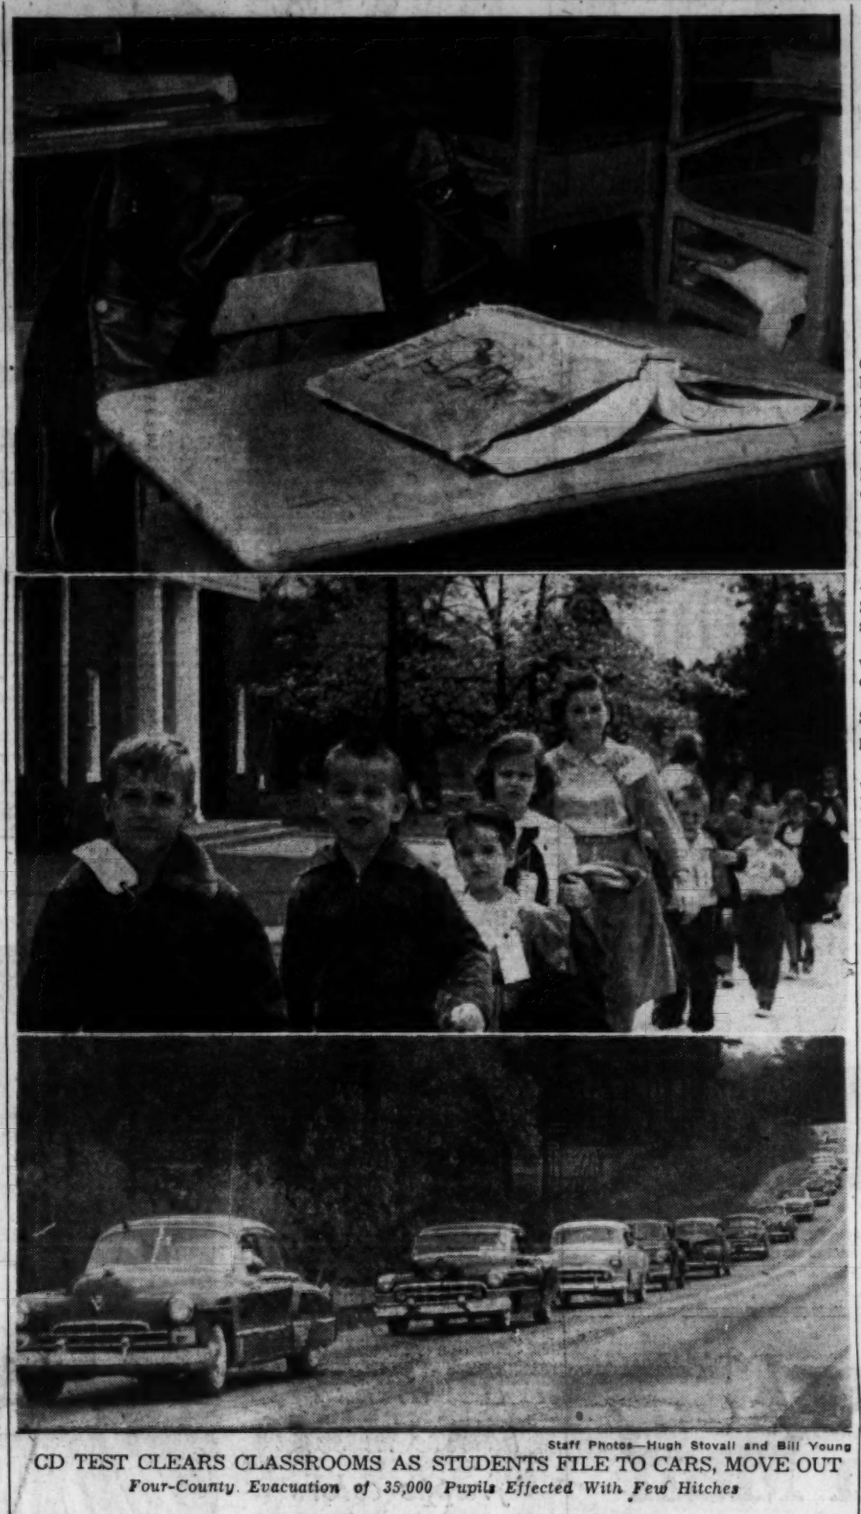

It would then begin its descent.

As it enters the thin fringe of air some 70 or 80 miles up, the "problem" is acute. At that point the re-entry body, separated from the main portion, the engines, fuel tanks, etc., at the peak altitude, begins to generate incredible heat. Most meteors fortunately burn themselves out, or "vaporize" before reaching earth.

But an ICBM must not. It is moving toward earth at about 16,000 miles per hour. (The entire 5,000-mile journey will require an estimated 30 minutes.) The heavier atmosphere through which the falling missile continually moves increases the heat. How to prevent the missile from being consumed, or the warhead exploded prematurely, is the roadblock. But it will be licked.

One such missile, armed with a thermo-nuclear or "hydrogen bomb," would wipe out a very large city and create destructive radioactive "fall-out" for maybe 100 miles downwind.

"All of God's chillun got missiles."

Four-County Evacuation of 35,000 Pupils Effected With Few Hitches

Warning Net Found Faulty as CD Evacuates 35,000 From Schools

Evacuation of about 35,000 Atlanta area school children in a mock raid Tuesday was termed "very successful" by civil defense officials — but they described the warning system as "completely inadequate."

Elliott R. Jackson, director of the Atlanta Metropolitan Area Civil Defense, said there are not enough sirens to be heard in all the schools. He added that some sirens did not function properly because of inadequate maintenance."

Reviewing the biggest mass evacuation ever staged by civil defense here, Jackson said he was generally pleased by the result.

"It was not perfect," he emphasized, "but in most cases, everything went smoothly."

Jackson said there was "not quite enough transporation" to move all the youngsters from "danger areas" to points of safety.

He said 200 students were reported "stranded" at Brookhaven School and some 60 were left at Skyland Elementary School. Several other schools reported a shortage of cars.

Sirens sounded at 9:30 a.m.—and volunteer evacuation drivers went to the schools where the cars were loaded with children in an orderly manner. Schools in Fulton, DeKalb, Clayton and Cobb counties participated.

Drivers proceeded to "reception centers" in safety areas at varying distances. Those from Briar Vista in DeKalb went by caravan to Buford. They were

Khrushchev Hits at Some Briton Hosts

Airs Disarmament With Ike's Stassen

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON, April 24 (AP) — Soviet Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev complained loudly tonight of what he called piggish treatment he got from some Britons.

Then, cooling off from his huff, he talked for two hours at a big diplomatic reception with Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament.

Stassen told newsmen later he was sending an immediate report on the talk to Eisenhower.

"I think it's that important," Stassen said.

DISARMAMENT TALK

The American said the long talk was friendly and "very thorough." He said it was all about disarmament and nothing else.

Moscow radio, meanwhile, tried to take some of the sting out of Khrushchev's speech in Birmingham yesterday. In the talk the party chief predicted Russia would have a guided missile capable of carrying an H-bomb to any target in the world.

Commenting on the British-Russian talks here, the broadcast said the Soviet Union "doesn't try to intimidate anyone with the weapons it has."

"PEACE A NECESSITY"

The speaker made no direct reference to Khrushchev's remarks but said peace is a vital necessity for the Soviet Union.

Russia "remains a supporter of disarmament and of banning nuclear weapons," he added.

Moscow earlier had toned down Khrushchev's statement in a broadcast on its home service. The Russian people were told only that Khrushchev said:

Negroes Sell Corp. Homes In White Area

The West Side Development Corp. has raised $30,000 and purchased nine white area homes recently sold to Negroes, it was disclosed Tuesday night at a meeting of the Grove Park Civic League.

Mayor Hartsfiled, addressing approximately 250 persons in the Lena H. Cox school auditorium, told the audience, "We are hopeful the situation is now stabilized."

He congratulated them by saying, "You have gone about this matter in a legal manner, and we are proud of the way the situation has been adjusted."

The mayor said he held a $100 subscription in the corporation.

Ray Gary, president of the league, said the nine properties had been vacated by the Negroes. He added election of officers is slated for the near future.

Blast Here Rips Church Facility

A mystery blast believed set off by vandals early Tuesday severely damaged the recreation center at the Morningside Presbyterian Church, 1411 North Morningside Dr., NE, police said.

The recreation center is located in a wooded glen 300 yards from the main church building. The church itself was not damaged.

Residents in the area described the blast as sounding like a dynamite charge. They said it happened at approximately 9:30 a.m. Ptl. E. P. Newton and W. R. Carter said the explosion knocked out 15 to 20 windows, destroyed a barbecue pit, twisted and broke water lines.

Judge Bans NAACP in Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., April 24 (AP)—A state judge today ordered a permanent halt to activity of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Louisiana.

The permanent injunction came under a 1924 law that wiped out the Ku Klux Klan in Louisiana.

District Judge Coleman Lindsey took the action in a default hearing. State attorneys had entered the default petition April 10 after the deadline passed for an NAACP reply to a temporary injunction granted March 29.

MISS COURT

No NAACP attorneys attended the brief hearing, held without advance press announcement or notice to the NAACP.

Attorneys explained no notice was required in such a hearing.

The NAACP said it would appeal the injunction suit.

The law says the attorney general is directed to take action "by injunction or otherwise to dissolve" organizations which fail to file yearly membership lists, until they comply with the law.

WAY BACK

In this case, state attorneys W. M. Shaw and Sargent Pitcher said the NAACP would have to file with the secretary of state certified membership lists dating back to the organization's start in Louisiana.

NAACP activity in recent years first won admission for Negroes to the Louisiana State University graduate school, then as undergraduates at three state colleges.

An NAACP suit knocked out Louisiana's 1954 school segregation laws early this year and a federal judge has ordered integration in New Orleans public schools, as soon as it is feasible. A suit seeking integration of Baton Rouge schools is pending.

White and Negro Boys Battle at KC Ball Park

KANSAS CITY, April 24 (AP)—A series of fist fights and scuffles broke out between white and Negro high school students leaving Municipal Stadium after today's Detroit - Kansas City baseball game.

Press box observers estimated the number involved at about 300. They said the free-for-all pitted whites against Negroes.

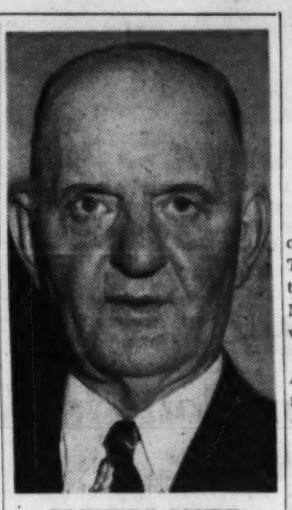

A ball park official said the melee had just about "worn itself out" by the time traffic officers reached the scene. It lasted about 10 minutes. Police headquarters said it did not receive a call for assistance and that no arrests were made.

It could not be learned how the fights got started. More than 8,400 high school students attended the game, classes having been dismissed for the afternoon.

There were reports of several broken noses.

BLISTERS COURT

Rep. Carl Vinson

Court Wrote Own Law, Vinson Says

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS

Constitution Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 24 — Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga) today delivered a blistering attack on the Supreme Court for its public school segregation decision.

In a carefully documented speech before a crowded House chamber, he called upon Congress and the individual states to demand "a return to constitutional government . . . lest we surrender our liberties to a third house of Congress—the Supreme Court."

The veteran Milledgeville member, dean of the Georgia delegation in Congress, hurled at the high tribunal the charge that it has sought to arrogate to itself the authority to write the laws of the land, rather than merely interpret them as the Founding Fathers had intended.

SET ASIDE

In handing down the school segregation decision May 17, 1954, he said, the Supreme Court set aside the principles of constitutional government "so carefully preserved" in the past and had opened the way for the federal government to assume full authority over the affairs of the states.

It was one of the most carefully prepared speeches on the subject delivered in Congress and was well documented.

Vinson cited statements from speeches by President Eisenhower, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and even the Republican national platform of an earlier day to show that the rights of the individual states and local communities to administer their domestic affairs were to be respected.

SUPPORTS CONTENTION

He built his thesis on the theme that the "farsighted men who gave us a Constitution in order to form a more perfect union" ceded to the federal government only those powers that were necessary for the good of all of the states, carefully preserving to the several states all the powers not specific-

INTEGRATION STEPS

But other bus firms began following the integration policies of the National City Lines, which operates in eight Southern and "border" cities where segregation has traditionally been practiced, including Montgomery.

The Virginia Transit Co. said enforced segregation would be discontinued Wednesday on its lines in Richmond and Norfolk and "it is hoped. . that good judgment will be used by all passengers in order to continue to maintain good relations."

A spokesman for the Virginia company said the Portsmouth, Va., Transit Co. also would adopt the new policy. Operators were being instructed tonight in Richmond and Norfolk to discontinue enforcing the state's segregated seating law.

DURHAM LINE

In North Carolina, the Duke Power Co. said it also was complying with the Supreme Court principle but did not expect any great change in its bus operations at Durham and Greensboro. A spokesman said no reaction or opposition was expected by city officials at either place.

The National City Lines, with headquarters in Chicago, operates subsidiaries in Jackson, Miss.; Tampa, Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; Tulsa, Okla.; Montgomery; and Wichita Falls, Beaumont and

Ike Casts Ballot, Leads Adlai in Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower took an early lead over Adlai Stevenson in Pennsylvania's presidential preference contest Tuesday night. The election marked the first time the President voted in Pennsylvania.

Sharing interest with the Keystone State battle was Massachusetts, where Democratic U.S. Rep. John W. McCormack as a "favorite son" piled up a lead over Stevenson.

Bad weather and apathy due to the lack of any real statewide battles were blamed for a small turnout in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania returns from 4,156 of 8,730 precincts showed Eisenhower leading with 459,758 votes. Stevenson had 272,504, with returns in from 4,356 precincts. Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee had 5,842 write-in votes on the Democratic side. Sen. Knowland of California won 19,204 votes from Republicans.

In Massachusetts, McCormack, who had the open support of Kefauver, tallied 15,162 votes to Stevenson's 6,740 with write-in returns complete in 791 of 1,767 precincts.

On the Republican side, with returns in from 941 precincts, Eisenhower led the ticket with 23,228 against only token votes of 317 for Gov. Christian Herter and 128 for Vice President Nixon.

Probe Told Nixon Campaign Aide Paid $5,000 by N.J. Clothing Firm

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The name of Murray Chotiner, a 1952 campaign manager for Vice President Nixon, was brought today into a Senate investigation of armed services clothing contracts.

The investigators brought out testimony that Chotiner, a West Coast lawyer, was paid $5,000 to defend a clothing maker accused in Brooklyn, N. Y., of stealing government materials.

The testimony came from Murray M. Kimmel, a New York accountant, at a public hearing before the Senate Investigations subcommittee. The senate group is looking for evidence of graft and corruption in connection with military uniform contracts.

Chotiner was named in a document placed in evidence which reported he received the $5,000 on July 31, 1953—a year after the Nixon campaign—as defense counsel in a case alleging theft of government materials furnished a manufacturer of Army uniforms.

The document was inserted in the hearing record in connection with testimony by Kimmel that the fee was paid by the now-defunct A. C. Clothing Co. of Atlantic City.

This firm was owned by Samuel and Herman Kravitz whose names have figured prominently in the current inquiry.

Subcommittee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the "M. Chotiner" referred to in the document—a bookkeeper's ledger sheet—is "the same Murray Chotiner" who had a major hand in running Nixon's campaign.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Chotiner will be given a chance to testify if he requests it.

Kennedy said he already had talked to Chotiner about the matter. He did not elaborate.

In Los Angeles, Chotiner said he had given the Senate committee's chief investigator "all the information" on his legal work "except that which I couldn't disclose because of the confidential relationship between a client and his attorney."

"It is true," he added, "that in May of 1953 I received a fee to

Ike Fighting Democratic Tax Cut Bid

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON, April 24—The Eisenhower administration and leading congressional Republicans opened a counterattack today on tentative Democratic plans for an election year income tax cut.

The prestige of the President personally and of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was committed to a general Republican effort to dispel all talk of tax reductions now.

This Republican decision to hit back hard on the tax question came while the administration already was heavily engaged with the Democrats over another bread-and-butter matter, farm relief.

NEW CONGRESS

It signaled the near approach of the final and critical phase of the Democratic 84th Congress, which will open in May

It was the beginning of an old-fashioned partisan marshaling by the two parties over several other traditional issues.

The President's opposition to any tax cut first was discussed at a morning White House meeting with congressional Republican leaders.

GOP PARLEY

It was then reported in detail to the entire Republican Senate membership, meeting with the Republican Policy Committee, in a conscious dramatization of the President's position and the substantial adoption of that position immediately by the Republican rank and file.

"This," said the chairman of the policy committee, Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, "should pretty well put the kibosh on tax cuts now."

Rebel Raids Slay 100 Paris-Loyal Algerians

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 24 (AP)—Nationalist rebels sweeping down the mountains slaughtered more than 100 Moslems loyal to France and destroyed three villages in a "valley of death," French authorities reported today.

Thousands of terrified mountaineers fled from their homes in the Soummam Djebel Valley southwest of the port of Bougie in the rebel-infested Constantine Department (province), to seek the protection of scattered French outposts.

Officials said men, women and children were butchered in the series of rebel raids last week.

Tribal chiefs begged for protection for their 300,000 nomadic people. There are only 3,600 French troops in the area, one of the worst trouble spots in Algeria. Officials said at least 20,000 troops would be needed to keep the rebels under control.

The attacks began when the local populace declared allegiance to France and asked for weapons to fight the rebels.

At the hamlet of Arbala, rebels shouting "traitors" herded the villagers into a clearing, singled out the heads of 17 families and slit their throats.

The womenfolk and children of the victims were forced to watch.

At Ichabem, Tichi - Afmir and Sidi - Bou - Azzath the rebels killed two-thirds of the populations.

Near Oued Marsa the rebels raped Arab women.

Many of the victims were cursed and reviled before being put to the knife, officials said.

House GOPs To Press Half-Billion Soil Bank

By WILLIAM M. BLAIR

WASHINGTON, April 24—House Republicans decided unanimously today to fight for an administration soil bank that could put as much as $500,000,000 in farmers' pockets before the November election.

Rep. Martin (R-Mass), House GOP leader, announced the action after a closed party conference in the House chamber.

Earlier, the Democrats put a rein on their efforts to force the administration to take a $1,200,000,000 appropriation for a soil bank under a New Deal law.

SHOWDOWN NEXT WEEK

The Democratic appropriation would not provide advance payments for farmers who agreed to withdraw land from surplus production. This is a major aim of President Eisenhower, who called for prepayments to begin July 1 when he vetoed the omnibus farm bill and called for a separate soil bank.

The Democrats' slowdown appeared to be for the purpose of gaining time to promote party solidarity for a showdown fight in the House next week. Action had been scheduled for tomorrow but the House Rules Committee did not take up the soil bank money bill today. It rescheduled hearings for tomorrow.

Forced to the defensive by the administration moves, Democrats today introduced amendments to broaden the 1936 Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act that they have contended gave Eisenhower sufficient authority to operate a soil bank.

AMENDMENTS

The amendments were presented by Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. His amendments, however, do not provide for any advance payments.

The conference of House Republicans was called after a White House meeting this morning of Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders. Martin told reporters at the White House that the leaders would accept the Democratic plan to provide soil bank funds without additional legislation if they failed to salvage the administration proposal in the rules committee.

But after the Republican conference in the House chamber he and Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), assistant leader, declared they would carry their fight all the way to the House floor.

Quorum Calls Trip Bill on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Civil rights legislation was stalemated in the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday for the second time in a week.

The group met but took no votes because members were repeatedly summoned to the House by quorum calls.

Backers of the legislation said Dixie congressmen were trying to break up the committee meeting by making points of "no quorum" on the House floor. They called it "filibustering."

Chairman Manuel Celler, N.Y. Democrat who is pushing civil rights legislation, called another committee session for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. There'll be no quorum calls then until the House meets at noon.

Between 12:11 and 2:55 p.m. Southerners three times forced quorum calls which take about 25 minutes apiece. Reps. Williams (D-Miss), Davis (D-Ga) and Colmer (D-Miss) raised points of no quorum.

Probe Calls On GM To Cut Prices

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Senate's "big business" subcommittee made public today a staff report saying General Motors' "extremely high profits" call for price cuts to consumers.

The report, prepared under the direction of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), said also the time may have come to consider limiting the 6-billion-dollar corporation's expansion into any new fields.

FINANCING SUBSIDY

A further suggestion in the report, issued by a judiciary subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, was that it might be healthy for competition if GM cut its connection with its financing subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

The O'Mahoney subcommittee held public hearings late last year on General Motors as a "case study" in an inquiry into business size and concentration in the light of antitrust laws.

The Senate report noted that GM made a 1955 profit of 31 per cent on capital investment, after taxes, and said this compared with 12 per cent for the average American manufacturing firm.

While asserting the corporation needs large sums for such purposes as expansion and retooling, the report said GM has exceeded its profits target for the past eight years and:

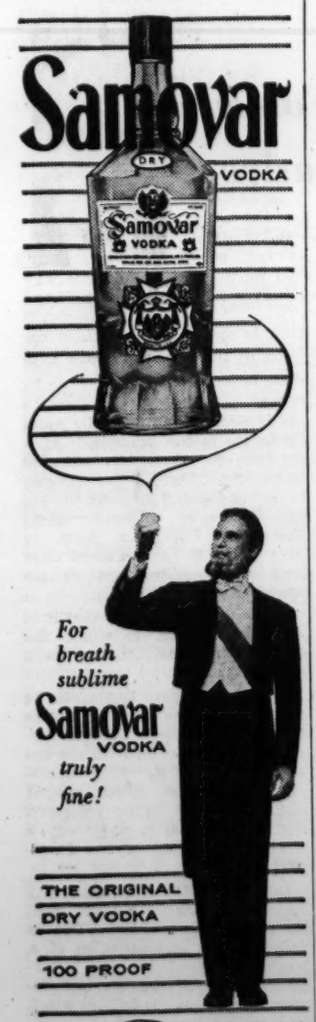

"In view of the extremely high level of profits sustained over such a long period the interest of the consumer should receive stronger recognition by the company in lower prices."

COMMITTEE FINDINGS

The report included these conclusions:

1. Since GM now makes more than 80 per cent of the nation's buses, it may be time to "restore competition" in this industry. There is a need for "prompt decision by the Department of Justice as to whether antitrust action is necessary."

2. GM should take further steps than those recently announced to relieve the "plight" of its dealers. The report said dealers still lack the power of decision over their investment and business methods even though the company has extended franchises from one to five years.

The British Prove Equal to Challenge

Americans who continue to think that Great Britain should dance to the U.S. tune must not fail to notice what has happened in London.

Prime Minister Eden, whose popularity at home is at a low ebb, has wrecked the plans of the visiting Russians, Khrushchev and Bulganin. They have turned gloomy and sour.

Why?

The Communists, knowing Britain's increasingly precarious economic position and her desperate need for trade, took the British up on the mountain top. They offered the rich Russian market as a price for abandoning NATO and the U.S. trade treaties restricting deals with Communist countries.

Sir Anthony stood firm.

The Russians turned sour. And dour.

They are revealed for what they are.

So far, so good.

But Britain must trade to live.

If she isn't to trade with the Communists, she must trade with the United States.

We can't applaud her for keeping her pledged word and then hanging out the high tariff trade signs. We can't damn the British for competing in our retail and commercial business and cheer them for keeping their defense treaties.

We can't pass state laws against Japanese goods and expect Japan to remain what she is—the one sure defense base in Asia.

The United States can destroy itself, finally, by being shortsighted. Great Britain has, as usual, proved her integrity.

Baliles Case Deserves Thorough Consideration

If the reports regarding his case are accurate, there is reason for a great deal of sympathy for Roy Baliles, now in custody in Atlanta after 16 years as a fugitive. He was arrested the other day in North Carolina where he had been living quietly.

Baliles, according to records, was convicted of killing a policeman 20 years ago in Fannin County. Fifteen years of age at the time, he was driving the family's pickup truck along the highway when he was flagged down by two men in plainclothes with pistols in their hands.

Recalling the incident, Baliles said that one of them came toward him on each side of the truck. He reached for a gun in the glove compartment of the car and shot the man next to his door. Looking back on it, Baliles says he was scared to death.

Sentenced to life imprisonment, he escaped four years later and since has led an exemplary life, including honorable service in the armed forces.

The main fact that stands out in the incident is that the youngster was approached by two armed men, not in uniform, whom he did not know. In his fear, he shot one of them. His reaction seems to have been a typical one of self-defense.

The incident points up again the importance of armed police officers' being identified by uniform or some other distinguishing characteristic. If approached by men with guns in street clothes, the immediate reaction by anybody is to protect one's own life.

If investigation of the case sustains the circumstances as he describes them, this young man—now a husband and father and responsible citizen—should be granted his freedom by Georgia authorities as quickly as possible.

Gen. Nasser Revealed As a Faithless Man

The feud between the Saud and Hashimite families makes that of the Hatfields and McCoys seem like a powder puff fight.

The late Ibn-Saud drove the Hashimites, who were rulers of the peninsula, into exile. He killed thousands of them and enslaved many others.

It was not until the British created Transjordan and set a Hashimite, the late King Abdullah, upon the throne that this family got back into the king business.

And, reportedly, the son of old Ibn, (he had 60-odd sons and an uncounted number of daughters) is losing out in Saudi Arabia.

He and his family take all the oil revenue. The army and the young intellectuals are becoming restive and giving ear to Egyptian propaganda and money.

The United States is vitally interested in this area.

Also Britain must have oil to sell, or go bankrupt.

Once again we see the utter folly of U.S. policy which has refused to make Israel strong and, instead, began playing ball with Arab states which had no intention of making any firm agreements. More than that, the Arab governments were too unstable to make any such commitments had they wished. The net result is to give Egypt the greatest momentum she has had since the days of the Pharoahs.

Gen. Nasser stands revealed as completely unreliable. He made a firm agreement with Great Britain to gain control of the Suez Canal. The Egyptians have stated they have no idea of keeping the treaty provisions. It was U.S. insistence which pushed Britain to the decision—to give up Suez—which was itself not wrong. It became wrong only because the Egyptians now admit they never intended to keep the provisions of the treaty.

The United States and Britain had best move now before they wake up one fine day to find the Russian-backed Egyptians asserting control over Saudi Arabia.

Elizabeth Stevenson Wins a Literary Award

Another honor has come to Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, Atlanta librarian and writer and scholar of real note.

Columbia University has announced she is a winner of one of its two Bancroft Prizes, awarded annually for outstanding works in the field of American history. Her winner was "Henry Adams," a deep study of a little-understood figure.

Miss Stevenson also is the author of a study of Henry James, "The Crooked Corridor." This book was published in 1949 and attracted the attention of English speaking literates everywhere.

Certainly one of the most distinguished of Southern writers, which means national distinction in these days of Southern literary leadership. Miss Stevenson wears her honors lightly. For she is as modest as she is deserving.

Reinforcements Arrive For Fort Frederica

Fort Frederica on St. Simons Island will have its armament trebled during observance of Armed Forces Week next May.

Great plans are in the making for the installation then of two eighteenth century cannon from Fort William in Jamaica as companions to the Georgia fort's one remaining piece. The cannon, of the same period and from a fort of the same vintage as Frederica, are gifts of the people of Jamaica and the Jamaica Historical Society to the Fort Frederica Association.

Fort Frederica once was the most important British fortification on the American mainland. It and its walled town was a base from which expeditions were sent against the Spaniards in Florida and a check to Spanish plans to recapture the Georgia coast.

With peace, the fort and town decayed and most of the fort's battery was sent where it could be used to advantage. With the revival of interest in Georgia's past, the remains of the fort and town were made a national monument and excavations undertaken to aid in reconstructing those dangerous days.

A visiting British archaeologist noticed the fort's lonely single cannon and started the chain of events that will result in next month's ceremony. The cannon from Jamaica began their journey by being piped aboard a British destroyer and now are in the Charleston Navy Yard from where they will be transported to St. Simons with all honor by the Navy and Coast Guard.

Fort Frederica has a fascinating history. Its construction on the remote American coast influenced events in Europe and the colonial empires of the European nations then contending for mastery of the new seas and continents.

Georgia's coastal islands and those of the West Indies once were closely linked by culture, economics and family ties. Jamaica's gift to St. Simons renews them once more and revives memories of stirring times on the Golden Isles.

Rural, Urban People's Interests Are Parallel In Many Cases, Including Good Government

Covington—I see by the newspapers that an unfair implication is being created in the minds of the voters that a division of interest exists between the people of our towns and the people residing in the rural sections of each county.

The president of the Georgia Municipal Association is quoted as urging the mayors to get out a large town vote to overcome a large rural vote which he seems to fear the county officials can and will deliver in obedience to a recent plea by the governor to them to elect only legislators who would follow him.

If, as the mayor says, the governor reneged on his promises to the mayors, he might console himself with the knowledge farmers don't very often get what they are promised either. The implication is that city people must band against country people and country people must do likewise to protect their interests from city people. This is ridiculous. The added implication is that only city voters can be expected to elect a Legislature which will stand up as the equal branch of state government our Constitution requires.

I'm sure the voters of Covington and Newton County don't feel that way.

The interests of our city people runs closely parallel with the interests of our rural people and anyone who talks otherwise is shortsighted, or has a chip on his shoulder and an ax to grind.

Our people need have no fear of voters in town or voters in the country, but all might be wary of special interests who would, for political advantage, create dissension where none exists and who would drive their wedges between folks who want the same things: prosperity in town and country and economy and good order in governments in city, county and state.

Leasing State Parks Hit as Unnecessary

Atlanta—The executive should be warned that the antinomian theory has limitations. Kings have found out they "can" do wrong.

But it seems there are no barriers in the moral code he would not vault. He has vacated every promise he made to get elected.

And on these thin rungs he aspires to scale the political Olympus of the Empire State of the South and auction it off to his friends.

Aikman's Reference To 'Hub' Appreciated

Duluth—The folks at Duluth appreciate Leo Aikman's reference to our friend, "Hub" Dowis.

Duluth is "Hub's" home town. He has been away quite a time, but we still claim him. His folks all lived here at one time. There was a big family. All of the children joined the church here at Duluth. And they all are folks that would make any good community better. "Hub" and his lovely wife, Grey, are pure gold.

He has done a wonderful work at that school. And both of them have been an influence for good in the lives of hundreds of girls and boys.

A CPS Lets No Grass Grow

A recent essay comparing housewives and airline hostesses as the most many-talented women of the age brought a chiding letter from Miss Hazel Pate. Hazel is a good neighbor, in the Palmer Building at the northeast corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets. She is secretary to the man whose name the building bears, Charles F. Palmer, the property owner and manager and better housing advocate. Miss Hazel Pate says she thought sure the column entitled "Many Talents Well Employed" had to do with secretaries. That was her way of reminding me that this is National Secretaries Week. In fact, this very day is Secretaries Day.

Which reminds me that in Omega, Editor "Bub" Lang says he saw an advertisement in the paper which read: Wanted: Power lawn mower that a woman can run or powerful woman that can run a lawn mower.

That's the way it is with the proficient secretary.

She's a powerful person who runs the office so quietly and unobstrusively that no one, least of all the boss, suspects.

On the other hand, an employer said to the secretary, who was half an hour late, "You should have been here at 9 o'clock!"

And she said, "Why, what happened?"

You can bet that young lady was not a member of the National Secretaries Association, organized in 1942 to raise the standards of the secretarial profession.

Nor was the new stenographer who had just taken 10 minutes of fast dictation. "Did you get all that, Miss Smith?" the boss asked.

"Almost all of it," she answered. "I got everything except what you said between 'Dear Sir' and 'Yours truly'."

That gal was no CPS.

The NSA has made CPS, Certified Professional Secretary, mean to the profession what CPA does to accounting and FFV to Virginia.

Unallocated Highway Funds Total Many Millions in State

It could be that officials and local citizens in the various counties throughout the state have delayed road projects in their areas by failing to cooperate with the State Highway Department, but it's hard to believe.

Rather, the general impression is that the individual counties are constantly pressuring the highway department for new projects and are willing to go almost to the proverbial last mile—including political indebtedness—to get their road work done.

At any rate, the State Highway Department issued a report last weekend disputing statements published in the Telegraph and News and, in so doing, also rebuffed the officials who made the statements originally—one of them a member of the State department, the other the director of the U.S. Bureau of Roads.

The latter, B. T. McWhorter, told the Macon newspapers that Georgia is "way behind schedule." Perry King, assistant state highway engineer in charge of planning, said "We are behind schedule because our engineers had to work on the Rural Roads Authority program."

But, last week, the highway department itself blamed the backlog on lack of cooperation from local officials in the various counties.

There are entirely too many communities ready and willing to provide full assistance to the highway department and anxious for funds with which to finance these projects, to allow other derelict communities—assuming there are some—to tie up millions of dollars in road money.

Whatever the cause for the delays, it is a fact that approximately 30 million dollars is right now uncommitted and available for allocation to road projects in Georgia.

An additional 39 million in federal funds will be available next July 1. None of this is yet committed, scheduled or earmarked.

Georgians are paying double for their auto tags this year, thus boosting the sums pouring into Atlanta, but it looks as if the increase wasn't needed.

Valdosta Daily Times

To the mate, who indignantly protested on reading it, the skipper retorted:

Skipper—Well, it's true, ain't it?

On the following day it was the mate's duty to write up the log, and he completed his account with "Skipper sober."

The captain stared at it for a moment, then exploded.

There's No Mystery About the Sparrows

Seems as if I am the only man in Christendom—or at least that part of Christendom in which The Constitution circulates—who did not know where the sparrows had gone.

According to Mrs. D. C. Jones, of 1367 Springdale Rd., NE, they have moved out to her house. There are four million of them in the neighborhood now, she says, and new arrivals are hatching off every day. The reason for their presence, she explains, is that she feeds them.

She does not have the aversion to the bullying, brawling, cocky little fellows that folks had when I was growing up. In my youth, part of a small boy's duties was to go about the neighborhood, poking sparrow nests out from behind the blinds on people's houses.

Everybody had lattice-type shutters in those days, which were never closed and the sparrows took refuge behind these shutters, building their unsightly nests of feathers, wisps of grass and string. Tidy householders did not like to have their homesteads so decorated and they would pay us a nickel to destroy the nests. Despite this incessant war, however, plus the fact that every small boy had an air rifle and plunked at every sparrow he saw, the little gray fellows thrived and multiplied.

Mrs. Jones seems to have a different viewpoint toward the sparrow. Her hand is not turned against him. She puts out about 20 pounds of bird seed a month, which they gobble noisily and all the stale bread she can lay hands on. She even feeds them leftover scrambled eggs. Sparrows, she says, are very fond of scrambled eggs.

The sparrows who are not making their residence with Mrs. Jones seem to have moved to Hall County. Mrs. M. L. Snare reports that there is no shortage of sparrows whatever in Gillsville, Ga., and that anybody who wishes to have sparrows around his house can come up there and get all they want free. She will not even charge them the Biblical price, which was two sparrows for a farthing.

Mr. S. M. Devereaux writes from Valdosta that there is actually no dearth of sparrows anywhere. You just have to know where to look for them. With the demise of the livery stable, where there was always loose grain scattered about, they have transferred their habitat to the stockyards, where they are plentiful as ever.

"You city folks just don't know where to look," said Mr. Devereaux. "Whoever saw a drove of sparrows scratching around a parking meter?"

Happiness Formula Was Given on Mount

It takes only 15 minutes to read the greatest sermon ever preached—and when you have finished it, you will have read a complete summary of all that Jesus taught.

There are 11 great religions of the world. Provenanda, one of the great Hindu philosophers, said that every item of importance in all the religions is included in this one sermon. He said that there is not one iota of truth in any of the religions of mankind that is not incorporated in this one sermon.

In relatively few words, this one sermon blends together all truth of all time.

What is the sermon? It is the Sermon on the Mount. Who preached it? The One who spoke with authority — Jesus Christ. Where can the sermon be found? In the 5th, 6th and 7th chapters of Matthew.

Notice the first word of the Sermon — "blessed." Some translate that word as "happy" but Carlyle insists that "blessed" is the better word lest the word happy be confused with that vague something at which men grasp and miss. Jesus begins by announcing, "I want to give you a happiness that is so deep, so lasting, so complete that you will be a blessed person."

Right at this point, we are most apt to miss the real purpose of the Christian faith. We talk so much about sacrifice, service and the will of God that leads to a Cross. We miss the truth that Christ's purpose is to make men happy. His typical greeting was "Be of good cheer." In fact, it has been well pointed out that, He gave the world "three cheers."

First, the cheer of forgiveness. He said, "Be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee" (Matthew 9:2). Second, the cheer of companionship. He said, "Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid" (Matthew 14:27). Third, the cheer of victory. He said, "In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (John 16:33). What are the three things that destroy happiness? A sense of guilt; a feeling of forsakenness; a fear of defeat. "Three cheers," said Christ, "I bring you the answer to all three."

And how does He bring that blessedness? A group of people held a round-table discussion to discover what happiness really is. They couldn't define it, but they did give some examples of it, such as: a craftsman busy at his task, a mother bathing her babe and a surgeon called at midnight to perform a critical operation. That is, happiness consists in being something, in a certain quality of character and a way of life.

So at the beginning of the Sermon, Jesus gives the eight qualities of life that result in true happiness. Just as an octave in music contains eight notes, so there are eight notes that make up the melody of the Christian life. We call them "beatitudes." We must continue this tomorrow.

Republicans Forced To Take Defensive

WASHINGTON—Sometimes at the end of a national political campaign and after the election, experienced practical politicians can look back and put their finger on the point when the balance shifted one way or the other and for what reason or maybe for no particular reason at all.

It would be foolhardy at this time, with the 1956 campaign hardly under way, to claim that any such point has been reached.

Which brings us back to where we started about turning points in campaigns.

The Democrats have not yet reached the point—if they ever do—where they would lay bets in cold cash that they could beat the President. But they are much more confident.

Contributing most to the renewed confidence is a factor that the President as a military man would appreciate.

This is that the Democrats now have the Eisenhower administration on the defensive and trying to explain itself.

This became plain over last weekend. In two fields—agricultural policy and foreign policy—the administration is on the defensive.

Even before the Democrats got to town toward the end of last week Republican leaders from all over the country were put on the defensive in their own sessions at the first of the week by their manifest anxiety over the President's veto of the farm bill.

How the administration has been forced on the defensive on foreign policy was exhibited when President Eisenhower saw fit, after his formal address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday night, to take another half hour to speak off the cuff in defense of the administration's handling of foreign policy.

That was clearly in answer to the critical speech made by Adlai Stevenson to the same body at a luncheon the same day. Likewise Secretary of State Dulles seemed to be addressing himself, in his speech Monday to the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. in New York, to the reasoned case built up by Stevenson in his speeches in recent weeks.

That, in itself, showed that it is Stevenson's voice to which the Eisenhower administration pays heed.

Indeed, what gave Democrats as much of a lift as anything else in their weekend here was the opportunity it gave them to see the President and the 1952 Democratic candidate pitted against each other and to be reassured that Stevenson is in every way a worthy challenger of the President.

Once again it was apparent why Republicans fear Stevenson most as Democratic nominee. This is based on his demonstration of a wealth of knowledge and understanding of our foreign and domestic problems—in both of which he has had long practical experience—and in his ability to express his views and convictions with clarity and force.

WORRY CLINIC

Tim's Only 2 Ft. Ahead Of Slavery

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Tim J., 64, is soon to be retired on Social Security.

"Dr. Crane, my wife and I have saved a few thousand dollars," Tim began, "and next year we'd like to go back to a little plot of ground in the country so we could eke out our living from the soil.

"We both grew up on the farm, so we are used to that kind of life and enjoy it.

"Besides, if we continue to rent here in Chicago, we will hardly have enough left to live on.

"It now costs us $75 per month for our little apartment, and that would knock out most of the Social Security pension I'll receive next year.

"Don't you think we could live more economically on a little five-acre place of our own?"

2 FEET FROM SLAVERY

When you approach the Social Security age, always keep vividly in mind the fact that you are only two feet from slavery.

And those two feet are your own pedal extremities!

So keep on your feet as long as you can do so, even if your joints creak with arthritis and you must hobble on a crutch, cane or even a peg leg.

Don't surrender to your easy chair or even allow yourself to become bedfast, for the moment you lose the power to get around on your own two feet, you will be tied down like a vegetable.

You will then be physically chained to a fixed spot and will have no more physical freedom than a slave.

I say this because too many elderly folks nowadays fail to set themselves a daily stint of physical walking. They succumb to an easy chair. And the more they rest, the faster their muscles atrophy.

So thank God that you have feet and be sure you use them daily. Since you are only two feet away from slavery to a bed or invalid's chair, don't neglect to walk, walk, walk.

FARM INDEPENDENCE

Tim is thus smart in planning to get a little plot of farm land. On five acres, an elderly couple can still earn their keep as long as they can hobble.

And the Social Security check each month will pay for other items like as fuel, electricity, coffee, sugar and such edibles which they can't raise in their garden.

Even if they purchase cheap, second-rate land, it will produce ample garden stuff and chicken forage, cow or goat pasture, etc.

By cheap land, too, I mean clay or sandy soil at $75 to $160 per acre, exclusive of the buildings thereon.

The rent which Tim pays in Chicago would soon buy him a five-acre plot. And the taxes thereafter on his five acres, plus a little cottage and hen house or cow shed, would probably average less than $5 per month.

So he would save $70 per month by living in his own little farm cottage, instead of in the $75-per-month city apartment.

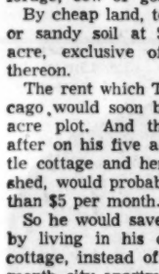

But by all means, don't go into physical retirement at 65. Stay on your two feet for they are what will keep you physically active and out of a rest home or hospital.

Walk, and walk and walk. EVERY DAY! Fight the inertia of old age which tempts oldsters to sit in rocking chairs before TV sets and thus causes premature invalidism.

Not Always Important To Live Long

QUESTION: I have wondered about the missionaries who died in Ecuador recently. I have heard discussions pro and con about their death. Some think it was an act of Christian heroism, others consider it a needless waste of life and a neglect of duty to their families. What do you think about this horrible story?—J. A. U.

ANSWER: I do not believe any consecrated Christian would needlessly waste his life or powers. Nor do I believe these men of God would have risked their lives unless they had been assured it was the will of God. There is every reason to believe their wives were fully in agreement with their plan.

It is not always important that we live a long time, but that we live in complete surrender to God. God doesn't need man-hours. He seeks the devotion and fellowship of His people.

I am confident their death will accomplish more than their lives, or God would have kept them alive for His glory. Paul once said that "Christ shall be magnified in my body whether by life or by death."

A Christian can accomplish more in a second of utter abandonment than in a hundred years of cautious compromise. These men and their wives did not compromise—for them awaits the martyrs' crown.

Atlantan Becomes Basketball Whiz In Denmark, Says Sunday Magazine

Young preachers learn about life and death at Grady. . . . There are about 50 young ministers from Emory University who take turns working in Grady's emergency clinics. Magazine staff writer Olive Ann Burns tells of their valuable service in Sunday's Atlanta Journal and Constitution Magazine.

ATLANTAN IS DENMARK BALL STAR . . . The author of this article, who is a Fulbright scholar, tells how an Atlantan became the sensation of the Danish basketball courts.

Emory To Host Debate Tourney

Debate teams from 19 Georgia, Florida and Alabama high schools will participate in an invitational tournament at Emory University Friday and Saturday.

A full Emory scholarship of $600 will be given the individual winner, and a half-tuition scholarship will go to the runner-up. Awards will be given to winning teams, but the competition will stress individual ability.

Topic for the debate is the national high school subject: "Resolved, that the federal government should guarantee qualified high school graduates a higher education."

Leonard Gilbert is tournament chairman and Emory faculty members will serve as judges. The Emory Barkley forum, college debate society, will sponsor the event.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker announces
NEW Golden Falcon SERVICE

Only Eastern flies the Golden Falcon DC-7B...newest, fastest, quietest, most luxurious airliner in the world!

I am happy to announce that, starting April 29, Eastern Air Lines will provide new Golden Falcon service from Atlanta to Washington, New York and Boston.

Eastern's Golden Falcon has been tried and proven over 375,000,000 revenue passenger miles.

Thousands of experienced travelers have acclaimed this magnificent airliner as the last word in luxury aloft. In fact, the Golden Falcon has received such enthusiastic public acceptance, that Eastern has more than doubled its original order for these great new aircraft. This Golden Falcon fleet of 50 luxury airliners represents the first phase of Eastern's unprecedented $392 million expansion program, bringing to millions of people the full benefits of the jet age of air transportation.

The Golden Falcon has set new high standards in luxury air travel. Its spacious cabins and restful lounge are beautifully decorated with fabrics and materials never before used in any airliner. Its advanced soundproofing assures more silent, relaxing flight. The Golden Falcon's extra-large, extra-comfortable reclining seats are all two abreast, and reserved for your convenience. The most delicious meals in the air are served with our compliments, and your favorite beverages are offered at popular prices.

In addition to this new concept of luxury, Eastern's Golden Falcon offers the proven dependability of Turbo Compound power. An improved exterior design also makes possible smoother, faster flight.

On your next trip to New York, Washington, Boston, Chicago, Tampa or Miami, enjoy all the advantages of this new leader in air transportation—fly Eastern's Golden Falcon. And remember, Eastern Air Lines—Atlanta's Pioneer Airline—offers more flights to and from Atlanta than any other airline.

Cocky After Successes in Asia, Khrushchev Is Frustrated by Jeers of British Workers

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The reaction of Nikita Khrushchev to his cool reception in Britain is a reminder of the dangers of trying to do business with a dictatorship.

Though Khrushchev may not be a dictator, the red-faced, shouting, angry man who, appearing with Premier Nikolai Bulganin, made his threats Monday in Birmingham, England, is top man of the Soviet "collective" dictatorship, and of international communism.

As such, he is powerful after a fashion not attained by the heads of democratic governments, and therefore more dangerous.

"We have seen fists shaken at us," said Khrushchev of the British reception. "Never shake your fist at a Russian."

Then he shook a figurative fist with an atomic guided missile in it, capable, he said, of hitting "every point in the world."

It was a dramatic reminder of one of the fundamentally disheartening things about all the talk of peace. There exists in the Soviet Union a small group of men — perhaps even one man—who, deliberately or in a rage, without consulting the wishes of the Russian people, can give a signal at any moment which would plunge the world into inconceivable horror.

WORLD ACCORD

All the talk of world settlements, all the talk of disarmament, all thought of co-existence with security, fades like a mirage as long as this fact exists.

Coupled with repeated emphasis on the Soviet determination to establish their Communist hierarchy over all other nations, this fact presents the West with an insoluble situation.

Such situations in the past have never failed to produce wars. Despite current estimates that the danger of war is not immediately pressing, it seems inevitable that if this situation continues it will produce war eventually.

BRITISH COOL

The depth of Khrushchev's irritation cannot be traced entirely to the repulses he and Bulganin have received from British workers, who are familiar with the workings of the Russian-sponsored World Federation of Trade Unions. The workers have seen first hand the efforts of the WFTU to disrupt British production and British business, which means disruption of the prosperity they have enjoyed so briefly in the past 25 years. The motivation of the workers is clear.

The Russian leaders, on the other hand, are more perturbed about the failure of their official mission, which was to buy strategic goods and create friction between Britain and the United States in that and as many other ways as possible.

Having found a good many suckers in their Asiatic tours, they have now run up against a different sort of customer, one they don't know how to handle.

Reds Rain Shells On Chiang Isles

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 24 (AP)—Gun duels at both ends of the vestpocket war front off the Chinese mainland occurred today.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's defense ministry said the Reds in 45 minutes rained 246 shells at Kaoteng, nearest and most exposed island in the Matsu group.

The Nationalists hit back.

Anti-Stalin Drive Hits Czechs

VIENNA, April 24 (UP)—The purge of Stalinists from Soviet satellites spread from Bulgaria and Poland to Czechoslovakia today. Dispatches from Prague said Vice Premier and Defense Minister Alexei Cepicka, son-in-law of the late President Klement Gottwald, has asked to be "relieved" of his position.

His resignation followed by a week that of Bulgarian Premier Vulko Chervenkov who abjectly confessed to "errors" after being charged with following the Stalin "cult of the individual." It coincided with a self-critical statement today by Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz who last week fired his justice minister and two top prosecutors for "serious deficiencies."

Prague reports said Cepicka, 46, asked "to be relieved of all his positions." He had tied his career to that of Gottwald. The late president recently has come under fire in Czechoslovakia as a result of the down-with-Stalin program instituted by the Kremlin.

Czech sources in Vienna said they believed orders for the ouster of Cepicka came directly from the Kremlin. The resignation of the vice premier was certain to be accepted, they said.

Eight Atlanta Telephone Offices Get New Names

...71,000 more numbers change

On May 20th, eight more Atlanta central offices and 71,000 more telephone numbers will be changed to the nation-wide numbering system which was inaugurated on a partial basis last fall.

Here are the changes

CYpress	becomes	JAckson 3
LAmar	becomes	JAckson 4
ALpine	becomes	JAckson 5
DIxie	becomes	MArket 7
VErnon	becomes	TRinity 2
ATwood	becomes	TRinity 4
EMerson	becomes	TRinity 5
ELgin	becomes	TRinity 6

New Directory

All the new numbers will be listed in a new directory to be delivered a few days before the change.

Please remember that you will dial the first two letters of the new office name and the identifying numeral, followed by the four other figures.

One more change, in November, will complete the transition to the new numbering system which provides for continued growth of Atlanta's telephone service and will make it possible some day for Atlantians to dial their own Long Distance calls.

Cities Fight Integration Plans by 13 Bus Lines

El Paso, Tex., where segregation has been practiced.

No immediate mixed riding appeared in prospect, however, in most of the Deep South cities. At El Paso, however, the bus company said it had only a few Negro passengers and anticipated no trouble when the signs denoting the white and colored sections are removed.

TULSA SHIFT

Tulsa bus riders have practiced segregation informally but the company said a changeover was expected without incident there. The company also has buses in St. Louis and East St. Louis, Ill., where segregation has never been practiced.

The transit authority of Nashville, Tenn., announced an emergency meeting would be held Tuesday night to consider local effects of the court's decision. Chairman Justin Potter said he had no desire to "stall, delay or evade" the issue of segregation.

NCL VIEW

A National City Lines official in Chicago said the company will 'not e'nforce segregation." But C. J. Helbing, Tampa manager of the transit lines, said the situation will be handled just as always.

Helbing said signs in the buses which direct Negro passengers to seat from the rear "will remain in buses until we are instructed by the state or my company to remove them."

In Montgomery, organized Negroes who have boycotted buses four months said no action to end the boycott would be taken until Thursday, when a meeting will be held.

Montgomery officials threatened arrest of bus line officers and employes or passengers involved in racial mixing on buses. A local ordinance provides up to six months in jail for violation.

Two of the three members of the Mobile, Ala., City Commission said the city's bus segregation will be enforced as long as it remains on the city books.

Mobile Mayor Joseph N. Langan said, however, he believes the Supreme Court decision invalidates Mobile's bus segregation law.

The Supreme Court's decision ruling out segregation in buses immediately was injected into the red-hot Florida gubernatorial contest.

Gov. LeRoy Collins promised Tuesday that lawful steps will be take nto avoid desegregation of intrastate buses.

Candidate Fuller Warren said the court's decision "proves that the present governor's statements that he has prevented mixing of races in Florida was just a lot of propaganda."

In Little Rock, Ark., the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People announced it will seek immediate end of racial segregation on the city's buses.

The spokesman said the first step would be a request, but he declined to elaborate further.

Bus company officials in Baton Rouge and Shreveport, La., said no change in the segregated seating pattern is contemplated in those cities.

Officials in Alexandria, La., and Gulfport, Jackson and Meridian, Miss., also indicated that the court's ruling will not end segregation on buses in their cities.

Meanwhile, in Georgia, the Supreme Court's sweeping decision had no effect on public transit operations.

State, city and transportation officials were quick to point out that the ruling was on a South Carolina appeal, to which Georgia was not a party.

Gov. Griffin pledged resistance at all odds.

No efforts to break down bus segregation were reported in any Georgia city.

Operators of highway buses were non-commital on what course they will follow.

Mayor Hugh Hamilton of Augusta and Macon Mayor B. F. Merritt said they have no authority to order any change.

L. D. Baggs Jr., president of the Bibb Transit So. that serves Macon, said "I have not ordered any changes."

L. H. Costa, president of the locally owned Columbus Transportation Co., said that no change in the firm's seating policy is contemplated. "We will continue operating just as in the past," he sadi.

At Savannah, Hadley B. Commack, general manager of the transit company there, said "Our position is the same as everybody else's. We think it's an invasion of states' rights and we're not sure whether the court's ruling will stick or not."

Will you be satisfied to keep what hair you have....

...Never go bald?

SOMEWHERE in mid-life, most men take notice of their thinning hair and either say or think: "My head won't look too bad if I can just keep as much hair as I have."

Trouble is, you can't keep as much as you have . . .

Not unless you change your habits of hair care—start some beneficial habits, stop some damaging habits. After all, your head testifies that what you've been doing is not enough.

Easy to say? Sure. Also easy to do, under the guidance of a Voss hair expert.

Keeping what hair you have is the minimum benefit to expect if you: (1) Let the Voss expert give your scalp a thorough examination at once; (2) Take the treatment he recommends—if any is needed—to put your scalp in good condition; (3) Follow the special rules of scalp hygiene he'll work out for you.

Then you'll keep your hair, at least. Most likely, you'll grow more hair—stronger, thicker, better looking hair.

Race Peace Held Job of Churches

By M. L. ST. JOHN

The problem of segregation and keeping racial peace is primarily the responsibility of the church—not the state. That's what persons attending the Georgia Baptist Sunday School Convention here this week are being told.

At a time when politicians turn thumbs down on "moderation" and when some out-of-state agitators demand use of force for integration, Georgia Sunday School teachers and workers are asked to take a Christian rather than radical approach to the problem.

Twenty-eight Baptist ministers and educators have issued a joint statement on race relations, published in the Christian Index.

In effect, they say that every individual should have the right to do what his Christian conscience tells him to do about segregation, And, that his choice should be respected by all.

CHRIST'S TEACHING

The group quotes the Bible to show Christ's teachings on how people should treat each other. Then, the group urges each individual to calmly measure his own opinion against the teachings of Christ. Realizing he is accountable to God, each person should then do as he sees fit—always in the spirit of Christian love—and his opinion should be respected by all. This advice was offered to members of both races.

"God created man in His own image . . . Christ died for all men . . . God is no respecter of persons," excerpts from the statement say. "Therefore, prejudice against persons or mistreatment of persons on the ground of race is contrary to the will of God. Christians have the assurance that Christian love, conscientiously and bring harmony and good will in race relations."

Dr. Roy McClain, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Dr. Louie Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist Church, were among the signers of the statement. Others included Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, N. C., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va., president of the Baptist World Alliance.

The group, speaking as individuals, said it felt called upon to urge Christian-like approach to the problem in view of many influences contributing to an emotional approach.

Dr. Charles Wells of New York, whose late mother resided at Marietta, Ga., said the church can maintain racial peace better than any other agency. Wells, a principal speaker at the convention, is opposed to desegregation by force. He said it can come peacefully only through growth of mankind spiritually and morally. Since conditions vary in different localities, desegregation can come now in some areas; in others, it will be 100 years, he said.

At any rate, ministers feel it is the church's responsibility to ease racial tension at a time when radicals from both sides are bordering on inflammatory statements. In calm voices, the preachers are appealing to people, white and colored, to apply Christian principles in their approach to the problem—and to accord others the right to do the same.

SAFETY HELMET—A crash helmet urged by the wives of Atlanta motorcycle officers as a safety measure for their husbands became a reality Tuesday. The city purchased the new headgear, modeled here by Patrolman Harry Gardner. Two motorcycle officers, C. L. Elsberry and F. E. Nunnally, were killed in crashes here during the last year.

Meriwether New Penal Camp Near

A new highway maintenance branch of the state penal system will be opened near Warm Springs in Meriwether County, State Director of Corrections Jack Forrester said Tuesday.

Construction of fireproof facilities to house 60 prisoners in the Meriwether camp is now nearing completion.

Forrester also said a similar camp will be built at Hawkinsville.

DISPERSAL

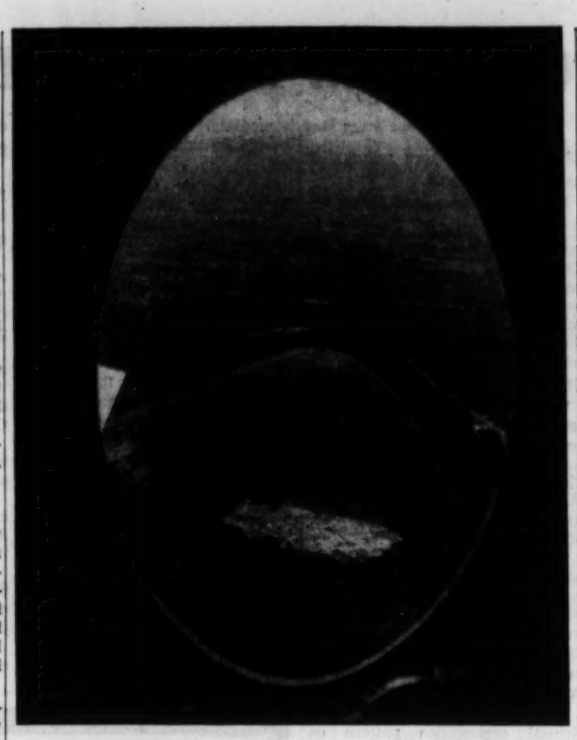

Establishment of these new penal branches are part of a program under the administration of Forrester and Gov. Griffin whereby state prisoners will be dispersed from crowded Tattnall State Prison and be used for highway maintenance and construction work.

Forrester said he also is negotiating with the State Forestry Department to train the Warm Springs prisoners in forestry work.

NEAR SPRINGS

Camps similar to the Warm Springs and Hawkinsville units already have been established at Waycross, Leesburg and Bainbridge. Older camps of a like nature are located at McRae, Eatonton and Mount Vernon.

The Meriwether camp is being completed about three miles north of Warm Springs on the highway toward Greenville.

Teaching by TV Expected In Schools Here Next Fall

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Education television may be a reality in Atlanta schools by next September, Miss Ira Jarrell, school superintendent, said Tuesday.

Miss Jarrell's prediction came as Haskell L. Boyter, director of radio and television education for the school system, announced the resignation of Kenneth Christiansen as assistant director. Christiansen has accepted a post with the Ford Foundation at Ann Arbor, Mich., to help map a national program for television education.

Francis Daves has been selected as architect to renovate and recondition the old Rock Spring Elementary School for use as the school's television station. Approximately $75,000 will be expended.

The Ford Foundation will donate equipment, and Miss Jarrell said orders will be placed as soon as the work on the station progresses to where installation can begin. Cost of equipment is placed at $100,000.

Evacuation time varied greatly. Ashford Park reported an exodus of 525 pupils in only 18 minutes. Cars moving youngsters from Spring Street School arrived at their destination 39 minutes after leaving the school—and 46 minutes after the warning.

Nearly all youngsters were evacuated within an hour.

Three makebelieve atomic bombs fell in the area—one at Five Points, one near the Lockheed aircraft plant south of Marietta and one at Forest Park.

Clark Dunn, chief of the civil defense transportation services, said 34 buses were furnished as "auxiliary transportation." He said one bus didn't show up at the assigned school."

William T. Bradley, chief of warning and communications, reported the warning system was "extremely inadequaae" because many schools did not hear the alert except on the radio.

"Our volunteers have been trained to do a grand job of evacuating the children," Bradley said, "but we don't have the signals to tell them when to do the job they're trained to do."

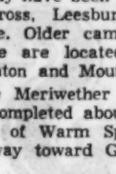

Chief George Pearson of the Hapeville Police Department said some of the volunteers were "driving a little too fast" in their haste to get to and from the schools. He said he had to slow down some of them.

Mrs. J. M. Foster of the west civil defense zone said quite a few drivers gave out of gas.

The Team(s) To Beat

Once upon a time not so many seasons ago, the bench was the chief piece of furniture in a baseball dugout. Then the word mechanics began to twist the language around.

The arm became the gun. The legs became the wheels. Any sort of disturbance became a "rhubarb." The ball park became the "mill." A juggled lineup indicated the Shakeup System. And the bench, well, it became The Bench, the people who didn't hold a regular job. It became popular for every manager in a league allowing as much as one utility man to talk about The Bench.

Bisher

So the night Atlanta opened the season and lost in Birmingham, the jovial Eddie Glennon, general manager of the Barons, observed in the flush of victory:

"It (Atlanta) doesn't look like much of a ball club, but they've got a helluva bench."

At that time Bob Montag, all-time Cracker home run king, Dick Sinovic, who missed the batting title by a mere eight points and drove home 126 runs three years ago, and Sammy Meeks, who struck .330 at Memphis two years ago, were on the roster but unemployed.

It came about that The Bench was put to work. Montag was called out when an emergency developed at first base. Sinovic was nominated for the outfield when young Bill Robertson lost the touch he had in March. Meeks recovered from a slight operation on the claw—hand, if your baseball lexicon is missing—and came out swinging at third.

There was yet another, Andy Bratkowitz, the pitcher, who had been lost in the shadows while the younger men were having their fling.

All at the same time the old folks seemed to get together. Montag, Sinovic and Meeks took to hitting fiercely the moment they got the summons from Clyde King. Bratkowitz came out as if pitching for his job and looked like a Bratkowitz the Crackers had never seen before.

—Better Manager Than Picker

This was where things stood when Memphis Jack Cassini arrived for a Ponce de Leon Park visitation. The Crackers were home from Nashville with four in a row at Sulphur Dell and five in a row altogether.

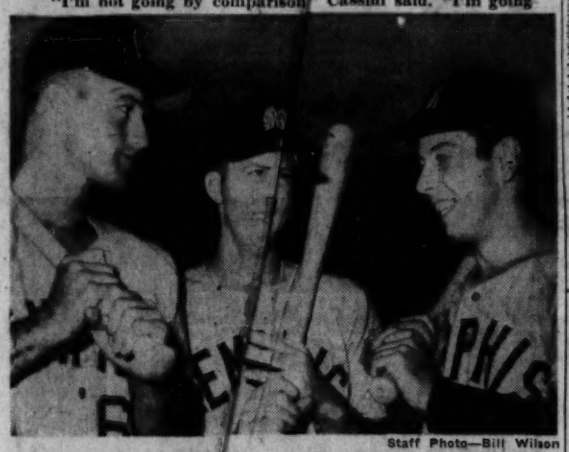

"This, of course, is the team to beat," Cassini said, surrounded by newspaper, radio and television ears.

"You said that last year," somebody reminded Cassini, "and Atlanta wound up in seventh place and you won the pennant."

"Well," said the little Chick, "I'm glad I turned out to be a better manager than a prognosticator. Seriously, though, Atlanta looks like the best team in the league right now."

"But you've only seen Little Rock and New Orleans. That isn't much to measure by."

"I'm not going by comparison," Cassini said. "I'm going by what they've got on the roster. Montag, Sinovic, Meeks, Burris, Daniels, Boring, DiPrima, Frey and those pitchers—that's a triple-A ball club."

THEY'RE BATTING 1.000 PLUS FOR CHICKS

Gip Dickens (.432), Ron Cooper (.364), John Romano (.429).

"That's what King said about you. 'Marshall, Peterson, White, Kirrene, Moskovich, Dickens, Papai, Flanigan and all those rookies,' King said, 'that's triple-A ball club.' He said it was so good Memphis could probably win without a manager," said a needler.

—An Old Uncle Named Cassini

"We've got a good club," Cassini said, "better than we were last year this time. They talk about Luis Aparicio at short. Luis is a fine ball player but Carl Peterson will be better for us than Luis was last year. Peterson's got more power, as good a glove, as good an arm. Aparicio was a better base-runner, that's all.

"This Romano is as good as they say he is. Good hitter, good receiver, good head. We've got better catching than we had last year."

The catcher last year was Joe Tipton, until one night in July. Tipton spoiled his manager with invectives and then went home to his filling station in McCaysville just before the All-Star game.

"My only problem," Cassini said, "is what .400 hitter to play." He chuckled wickedly. Gip Dickens, Ed White, Ron Cooper and Romano all are inside the .400 circle.

Romano is a richly rewarded bonus baby who hit .321, 38 homers and drove in 124 runs at Waterloo last season. He was all the excitement in the early days in the White Sox' spring training camp. Cooper mashed 35 homers, drove in 117 runs and hit .281 at Colorado Springs. Dickens is an older gentleman who has been around some, mostly in the Giants' chain, and who hit 15 homers and .27 in the American Association last year, and who is apparently embarrassed by his first name of Guilford.

White, of course, is an old hand who's wondering what he's doing back in this league again after an MVP season and a .375 spring with the White Sox. Collier's magazine almost picked him for its prospective rookie of the year in the American League. There was talk in Florida that a deal would be swung for him.

"I hear all that," White said, "and I keep waiting for something to happen, and here I am again. They must think I've got relatives in Memphis."

He has. A fond old uncle named Jack Cassini.

LOYOLA U. DEE-BUNKS BIRMINGHAM REPORT

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Reports that Johnny Dee is headed for Loyola of Chicago as basketball coach were flatly denied today by the university's athletic director.

Dee, former Loyola cage star, resigned as Alabama coach April 2, after guiding the Tide to the 1956 Southeastern Conference championship.

Naylor Sone, Birmingham, (Ala.) Post-Herald sports editor, last night wrote that Dee's name has been linked with Loyola, Northwestern and the University of Texas.

"Loyola has the finest basketball coach in the country, George Ireland," said the Rev. Cletus F. Hartmann, Loyola athletic director.

Dee played basketball for Notre Dame in his sophomore and junior years and for Loyola as a senior.

At Northwestern, Athletic Director Stu Holcomb said he had not spoken with Dee and added that "we're perfectly satisfied with Coach Waldo Fisher."

Dee said that "I have no coaching plans whatsoever in the immediate future, and I am in Chicago only to visit with members of my family."

Crackers Fall To Chicks, 4-2

Stuffel, Brown Toss 4-Hitter As Leaders Notch 7th in Row

By JESSE OUTLAR

Threatening to turn the Southern Association race into an early season rout, the high flying Memphis Chicks cashed in a four-hitter by Paul Stuffel and rookie Phil Brown for a 4-2 decision over Atlanta Tuesday night for their seventh straight triumph.

It was the 13th success in 16 games for Jack Cassini's defending champs and the fifth setback in eight games for the Crackers before the home folks. A ladies' night crowd of 1,906 looked in on the latest reversal.

Stuffel, who has lost two-thirds of the Chick games, limited the Crackers to one hit in the first five innings in a tight duel with rookie Terry Fox, who deserved a better fate.

Fox silenced the slugging leaders with only two safeties in the first four rounds and gave up six hits in seven innings.

The Crackers had several opportunities to derail the Chicks, but lack of clutch punch proved their undoing. Stuffel tossed in six walks and Brown doled out one, but the Crackers stranded nine runners.

They had Stuffel dangling from the hook in the first inning when walks to Sammy Meeks and Frank DiPrima and a single by Dick Sinovic jammed the bases with one out. But Jim Frey and Bob Montag were easy outs.

Meeks and Sinovic walked again in the third with only one down, but again Frey and Montag were easy outs. By the time Stuffel got into another jam in the sixth, the Chicks had supplied him with a 4-0 lead.

One of the runs was supplied by rookie Ron Cooper's No. 6 homer into the right-field signs, the 20th round-tripper by the Chicks in 16 games.

Fox gift-wrapped the first Memphis run with two wild pitches. He threw wildly to first for a two-base error after fielding Carl Peterson's hopper and, after the infielder moved to third on a fly, Fox opened the scoring gate with a wild pitch.

Memphis collected its first hit and second run in the fourth. Fox turned Gip Dickens' bouncer into a hit when he grabbed it on the foul line, before it could roll out. Dickens then advanced on an out and came across as Jim Marshall rifled a single into right. Joe Kirrene's near 400-foot double over Jack Daniels' head after John Romano walked promoted another run in the fifth, and Cooper unloaded his homer in the next inning.

The Crackers finally got through to Stuffel in the sixth when Sinovic, who has hit safely in 11 games, singled for his and the Crackers' second hit. Dick moved down on a wild pitch and Montag delivered him with a single.

In the next heat, the Crackers got a sour decision from umpire Warren Helkie, who took them out of a rally with his call at first base. But again they didn't help themselves, striking only one hit.

That was a lead single by Bob Boring, swinging for Fox. After

Crax Cut, Army Calls Robertson

CRACKER DIARY: Tuesday is a day that rookie outfielder Bill Robertson, who led the Crackers with a .376 spring average, isn't likely to forget.

He got the bad news that Manager Clyde King was lopping him off the roster and his Army draft notice within a matter of hours. The Crackers had intended to assign the promising fly-chaser to Jacksonville, but the Army, of course, has first call on his services.

Pitcher Charlie Bicknell was placed on the active list after Robertson's name was removed and a pitcher will be cut Wednesday to make space for catcher Frank Sacka.

Dick Sinovic is stampeding down the comeback trail with a blistering 18-for-34, .529 average and an 11-game hitting skein. He collected half of the Cracker hits with a pair of singles Tuesday. . . . Unfortunately the rest of the club's averages are dropping at an alarming rate. . . . Chicks' slugging outfielder Ed White, nursing a stiff knee, was still on the bench Tuesday night . . . Sammy Meeks had an unusual night at the plate against his former mates, walking three times and going down on strikes twice. . . . After rolling up an eight-game batting skein, Jim Frey has lapsed into a 1-for-16 coma. . . . Jack Daniels, with 2-for-20, and Bobby Willis, 3-for-23, are other Crackers in deep slumps.

Sanders Rips N-S Foe, 5-4

Bisplinghoff Out, 3 and 2

PINEHURST, N.C., April 24 (AP). Medalist Doug Sanders of Miami, Fla., continued to rout not only the opposition but the redoutable old No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club as he breezed through a five under par, 5 and 4 opening round victory over Kelly Grice of Charlotte, N.C., in the North and South Amateur golf tournament today.

Meanwhile, defending champion Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., lost 3 and 2 to the inspired play of Bill Williamson, another Charlotte entry.

The 24-year-old Williamson, runnerup for the National Collegiate title while at the University of North Carolina three years ago, never trailed as he shot one over par golf to oust the limping 1955 winner.

Without detracting from Williamson's fine play, it should be pointed out that Bisplinghoff obviously was not in top form due to the badly cut left leg and knee injury he received in a fall a week ago. Williamson was just too much golfer for the powerful blond from Florida to handle in his present condition.

Scoring in the upper half of the draw along with Sanders were Frank Strafaci, Garden City, N.Y.; Dave Smith Jr., Gastonia, N.C.; Eddie Merrins, Meridian, Miss.; Dick Chapman, Pinehurst, and Bill Hyndman, Abington, Pa.

Smith, medalist and semifinalist last year, played "spotty" golf in taking James Paul, Daytona Beach, Fla., 2 up. Merrins ousted Dr. William Alexander of Hopewell, Va., 3 and 2, to draw Chapman in the second round.

Jake Howard Jr. of Augusta, Ga., defeated Lawrence Cook of Wrightsville Beach, N.C., 1 up in 20 holes and faces Larry Dana in Wednesday's play. His University of Georgia teammate, Jack Lumpkin of Athens, Ga., was ousted by Hillman Robbins, 4 and 3.

Tech Whips Plainsmen

Tommy Plaxico's Georgia Tech golfers spanked Auburn, 22½-4½, Tuesday as George Johnson traveled over East Lake Country Club's No. 2 course in a four-under-par 71 strokes.

Tech's Ned Edge was two strokes better than par at 69 and Ed Barnes was right on it with 71. Don Smith's one-over 72 led the Plainsmen.

Five Record-Breakers File SEC Calling Cards

Poucher, Berman, Vereen, May, Duckworth Surpass Meet Highs

By MICKEY LOGUE

Though the Southeastern Conference track and field championships lie nearly a month away, five potential record-breakers already have pulled away from the pack. And others may have saved their strongest bids for the home stretch.

Florida's high-flying Earl Poucher last Saturday became the fifth contestant to better an SEC standard this spring, when he pole vaulted 14 feet, 8¾ inches.

The conference record is 14 feet, 2⅞ inches, established by Earl's brother Leroy Poucher in 1951. The younger Poucher's effort set a new Florida mark and exceeded his top 1956 vault by two and three-fourths inches.

Others to better league records this season are:

(1) Fred Berman. The Georgia Tech shot putter added four inches to his specialty in a triangular meet against Florida State and Georgia. His 54-foot 6¼-inch effort traveled nearly a foot further than the conference mark of 53 feet, 6⅛ inches.

(2) Carl Vereen. Another Yellow Jacket, he sailed the discus 175-5¼ against Miami two weeks ago, handily eclipsing ex-Auburn athlete Jim Dillion's 171-4 record.

(3) and (4) Bill Duckworth of Georgia has thrown the javelin 214-4, and LSU's May has fired the spear 213-10½. The SEC mark is 212-10¼.

The Auburn-Alabama dual meet at Tuscaloosa produced a pair of new leaders. The Tigers' Dave Powell, defending SEC champ, turned in the loop's fastest 880-yard run clocking, 1:55.9. Bob Hyde of the Tide high jumped 6-4¾.

They replaced LSU's King Mott, who owns a 1:57.6 half mile, and Georgia's Bob Davis, recorder of a 6-3 leap.

Lincoln Knowles of Florida cut one-tenth of a second off the campaign's previous high hurdles best of :14.6 run by LSU's Harry Carpenter. Jim Smith, a Gator junior, tied Florida freshman Ellis Goodloe's :09.6 100-yard dash time.

Official league records may be set only in the annual Birmingham annually.

Florida, which returned 36 points from last year's second place finishers, still looms the team to beat this season.

Bauer, Berra Homer As Yanks Clip Nats

Lumpe Figures in 5 DP's To Tie Shortstop Record

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—The league-leading New York Yankees put together two home runs, one of them a three-run blast by Hank Bauer, and five double plays today to down the Washington Senators, 4-1.

In a game played before a sparse and chilled crowd of 4,377 at Yankee Stadium, the New Yorkers peppered eight hits off the delivery of Lefty Chuck Stobbs, only pitcher to whip them this season.

Stobbs and sophomore Johnny Kucks were in a scoreless duel until the last of the fourth when the Yankees broke loose. Joe Collins singled, and after two were out, Kucks chipped in with a hit. Bauer then lined his second homer of the year into the lower left-field stands.

Yogi Berra rammed his fourth round-tripper of the season into the lower right-field seats in the Yankee seventh with the bases empty after the Senators tallied their sole run in the fifth inning.

Tigers Slug A's, 7-4

KANSAS CITY, April 24 (AP)—Bill Tuttle, Ike Boone and Reno Bertoia used their home-run bats today to ease the way for Steve Gromek as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 7-4 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Tuttle lofted his two-run homer in the fourth inning off Arnold Portocarrero.

ATLANTAN BRITAIN-BOUND

ALLEN MORRIS OUT TO GET FIRST TEAM DAVIS CUP SPOT

By BILL ALLEN

"I am shooting for the Davis Cup team," netman Allen Morris said upon announcement of his trip to England for the Wimbledon, Queen's Club and Beckingham tennis tournaments in June.

Allen Morris

Already named on the "preliminary" cup squad, the Atlanta and Presbyterian College tennis ace says he means to break into the challenge team from the United States this summer.

"Billy Talbert (team captain) has said that the team is a wide-open thing. I hope to prove that. I want to be the one who takes best advantage of the openness," Morris smiled.

PC tennis coach Jim Leighton said the 17th nationally ranked Atlantan has "improved tremendously," and the result is a grant from the PC Tennis Fund, subscribed by the folks in Clinton, S.C., so he can make the trip. The Atlanta tennis patrons, the Southern LTA and the USLTA also are helping.

Morris, who has swept all collegiate tennis opposition this spring (including top collegian Sam Giammalva, 2-1), has this to say about his own game:

"A fellow can tell, I believe, and I believe my game is 100 per cent improved over last year. I want to justify all the faith all these people have shown in me. I really mean to do my best to show my gratitude. I believe Wimbledon and the other play over there will help."

Allen's wife, Jean, will accompany him to England. He leaves May 7, three days after graduating from PC. He will follow the American net circuit when he returns from England in late June, beginning with the clay courts title play July 14. Receiving a degree in economics and an ROTC commission, he will go into Army uniform for six months in October.

All Gins look alike?

NOT SO!

The finest Gin ever made

LOOKS better...

TASTES better...

IS better!

ONE gin stands out from all the rest — not only in color, but in quality, taste and smoothness. Its name is Seagram's Golden Gin — and it's the first big improvement in 300 years of gin making.

The first thing you notice about Seagram's Gin is the natural golden color. But the difference just begins with color. Your first taste of Seagram's Gin tells you that here is satin smoothness and rare flavor you never knew before. These great improvements result from an important and original extra step exclusively developed by Seagram.

In the usual method of gin making, bottling starts while the gin is still colorless. But the Seagram method delays bottling until the gin goes through an extra interval of time and care. This step adds a natural golden color and brings Seagram's Gin to a mellow smoothness that tops off its magnificent flavor.

If you like gin, you owe it to yourself to try Seagram's Golden Gin at your earliest opportunity. You will be amazed and delighted at how much better your favorite gin drink can taste. Because Seagram's is the gin that is TIMED TO PERFECTION.

Childs Coach at Bacon County High

Special to The Constitution

ALMA, April 24—Wallace (Country) Childs, the south Georgia basketball coaching wizard who learned Monday his Blackshear High contract would not be renewed, Tuesday was hired by Bacon County High of Alma.

Morris Johnson, chairman of the Bacon County board of education, said Childs had accepted the head basketball coaching job at the high school here. Ben Park is head coach at Alma, which is only 24 miles from Blackshear.

From Blackshear, Childs told The Constitution he hated to leave the high school where his teams have won 151 games and lost only 17. "But these things happen," he added.

The entire Blackshear starting five, which lost out to strong Elberton in this year's state class A finals at Macon, will be graduated in June. But Childs said he hated to leave his seven substitutes behind. "They would have been great," he said. "With more experience they might all have played last year."

"We have been talking to Country about this for some time," Johnson said. "The affair at Blackshear doesn't concern us here at all."

Childs said his new salary would be "about the same." He and his family will leave their Blackshear home and take up residence in Alma.

Allatoona Bass Swarm Dulaneys | Ditto Beginning Plug Caster

By BILL ALLEN

Bill Allen

Latest to report in is C. E. Dulaney and son Joe of Acworth—both Lockheed employes and members of that great fishing club at the plant. Along with Glenn Parris of Acworth, they caught 40 pounds of bass—some smallmouths, they say—at Allatoona on nothing but cane poles and spring lizards. The largest one neared seven pounds and there were three over five pounds.

Bill Curry, the host at one of Atlanta's sharp sporting centers, forsook his spoonplugging in Lake Raymond, Coweta County, to manipulate the black eel through some weeds and grassbeds and he came up with a 6¾-pound lunker largemouth. Incidentally, you should see the one and three-quarter ounce rod and spinning reel and line he used to capture the monster.

Sam Shelton and Buster Shelton took their nephew, Sam Spurlock, up to Allatoona over the weekend to wean him off the cane pole bream fishing and onto casting plugs for bass. Allowing him the use of a 513 Bomber, they got him to use his thumb and backlashes came less often soon. At the end of the day he had skunked them with an eight-plus pounder. Moral: Don't try to "teach" anybody to catch fish. This will happen every time.

OTHER STRINGERS: Joe Stearns and Gus Dettlebach used the Buckspoon for 40-odd bass on the Ocklawaha River in Florida, but only brought the largest 12 back weighing nearly 40 pounds. . . . The Lawlers at Lake Chatuge report Jay Rhinehardt caught a five-pound largemouth on the baby Ike there. Thurmon Carlyle, also at Chatuge, hauled in 38 crappie in two days that weighed nearly 20 pounds. . . . Also at Chatuge, Harry Carringer lured a 4½-pound largemouth bass to the gunwale with the Imp. . . . Three bass averaging five pounds were part of Chatuge strings brought to Lawler's camp by Louis Lanard, Harvey Bearden and Guy Copeland. The crappie are beginning to strike and the larger bream are being located in shallower water. . . . Vester Tomlin of Cleveland landed a largemouth weighing 5½ pounds at Clearlake Lodge outside the White County site. . . . Nearer Atlanta, Jimmy D. Lusk of Avondale Estates took a seven-pounder Sunday at Lake Mahoney using a live spring lizard.

Akers Tech's Top Hitter As Clemson Visits Flats

Lane's Clutch-Rapping at .340; Grant Faces Tiger Nine Today

Lane Akers continued his supremacy in getting the base hit and getting it at the right time as Georgia Tech faced the Clemson Tigers' invasion of their Rose Bowl field diamond Wednesday afternoon.

Akers' 17 hits, 14 runs batted in and four sacrifice hits lead the Jackets as does his .340 average at the plate lead the regulars. Burton Grant, who has won two and lost none in one complete game and seven and one-third innings of relief stands atop the pitchers' table in game average. He will start against the invading Tigers Wednesday, owning, as he does, a 21-5 victory over them this year.

Coach Joe Pittard, facing Auburn in a single game there Friday and a doubleheader Saturday, will hold pitchers Bob Patton, Danny MacGregor and Jack Jordan in reserve if possible Wednesday.

TOO GOOD FOR WORDS

Buick CENTURY
6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera,
Model 63D

Makes Friends with the Meanest Roads
(Have you tried Buick's great new ride?)

THE SWEET WAY a '56 Buick rides on all sorts of roads is something you find nowhere else.

Capricious roads that twist and turn—unruly roads that rock and roll—tired roads, battered and beaten—they all seem to wear company manners the moment a Buick approaches.

Why? Simply because Buick comes with what it takes to put any road on its best behavior—the completely ride-engineered combination of chassis, engine and automatic drive that is obtainable in no other car.

And that's gospel truth whether you drive a new SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

No other car matches the firm, true tracking of Buick's own ride foundation—buttressed by brawny X-braced frame and torque-tube drive—cushioned on coil springs and deep-oil shock absorbers.

No other has such width of tread and length of wheelbase within dimensions so trim and tidy that Buicks turn, park and garage more easily than smaller cars.

No other duplicates the assurance of steering, brakes and rear axle so precisely geared and gaited for the nimble handling that's a safety "must" in modern cars.

And certainly no other name plate promises the soaring sweep of power that wells from the big 322-cubic-inch V8 beneath every new Buick bonnet.

Nor does any other automatic drive put power to its car's rear wheels with the swift pace of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—and that goes double every time you "switch pitch" for whip-quick, safer passing.

But why stop to count reasons—when results are what you're after?

Wouldn't you rather really feel Buick's new "sense of direction" on straightaway, curves and corners?

Wouldn't you rather relax in supreme comfort while tooling this powerful performer over roads you always hated to travel?

Well, sir, we cordially invite you to drop in on us and do just that.

Make it this week, won't you? Sample the ride that charms any old road—and get the figures on prices that make Buick owning a positive pleasure.

Little Rock Held to 3 Hits, Gets No Runner to Second

BIRMINGHAM, April 24 (AP)—Birmingham's Jim O'Reilly showed his pitching form of last season tonight as he shut out Little Rock, 4-0, on three hits and belted a triple.

MacKay homered in the seventh, his first since blasting three opening night against Atlanta.

John Jaciuk doubled in the fourth and scored on John Blanchard's single. In the sixth, Blanchard doubled and tallied on Hal Grote's two-bagger.

Sprayberry, DeKalb, Tucker Win Crucial Diamond Battles

Higgins Fires Two-Hit Blank

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

About dusk Tuesday, Tucker High had a stranglehold on the District 5-B baseball leadership, and Southwest DeKalb and Sprayberry had made it plain that they plan to battle Smyrna Campbell and Chamblee down to the bitter end for titles in the two divisions of Region 4-A West.

The shouting at Sprayberry was mostly for Charlie Watkins, Wayne Tatum and Lamar Frazier. At Sprayberry it was for David Higgins and Arial Burton, at Tucker for Lefty Tony Dorsett, Kelly Mansfield and Freddie Bailey, at Roswell for Raymond Lingo, Tommy Coleman and David Sullivan, and at Alpharetta for Milton's Larry Mashburn and Oliver Mullinax.

Coach Billy May's Sprayberry stormed past Campbell of Fairburn, 5-0, and into a tie with idle Smyrna for one 4-A West Division lead on a two-hit, eight-strike out, one-walk stint by Higgins, 185-pound southpaw ace. Arial Burton rapped two hits in three trips to lead Sprayberry belters.

Charlie Watkins' three runs scored, two hits—including a first-inning homer—Frazier's three-run round tripper and Tatum's three blows were chief ingredients of a 10-5 victory over Druid Hills that left Southwest DeKalb breathing on Chamblee's neck with the two set for a Thursday showdown battle.

Dorsett let Lithonia down with five hits as Tucker's 5-B leaders shaded their nearest rival and ace flinger Larry Hamby, 4-3. Bailey and Mansfield whacked two safe ones apiece, a Mansfield single in the fifth driving catcher Bailey home with the winning run. Hamby held the winners to seven socks.

Milton got back into the 5-B running by shelling Stone Mountain, 8-4, on Mashburn's homer and triple in three at bats and a steady seven-hit chore by right-hander Mullinax. Eddie Gouge and Phil Ashe held Ralph Wilsons' winners to six pokes.

Coleman tripled in the tying run and scored the winning tally on Sullivan's single as Roswell shaded Clarkston, 6-4. Lingo outdueled Johnny Waites although each hurler allowed just seven hits.

Fritz Flack was the only Druid Hiller to get two blows off Ray Collier and Robert Black. The Southwest hurlers gave up only five hits and fanned 10—but walked 11—and Black, who twice rescued Collier, also popped two singles that aided the DeKalb cause.

Hankinson Wins 3-AA Net Crown

Sylvan High's Don Hankinson captured the Region 3-AA tennis championship at Bitsy Grant Center Tuesday and in doing so gained 6-2, 6-4 revenge over West Fulton's Jimmy Spratlin, who a year ago beat him out of a state tournament berth.

Hankinson sealed a tournament berth this year by whipping Spratlin, but Spratlin himself will have to beat the man who is in the position he was in a year ago. He plays No. 2 singles champ Bill Darby of Northside Wednesday.

Northside won the team title as Darby dumped West Fulton's Fred Bailey and No. 1 doubles team Duncan Briggs and Buddy Weston, No. 2 doubles team Jack Walz and Tiny Williamson both captured firsts. West Fulton was second in team points with 12, while Grady and Sylvan deadlocked for third at nine and Murphy pulled up fifth with eight.

NO. 1 SINGLES: Don Hankinson (Sylvan) def. Jimmy Spratling (West Fulton), 6-2, 6-4; NO. 2 SINGLES: Bill Darby (Northside) def. Fred Bailey (West Fulton), 6-2, 6-3; NO. 3 SINGLES: Robert Carter (West Fulton) def. Raymond McGehee (Murphy), 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

NO. 1 DOUBLES: Duncan Briggs-Buddy Weston (Northside) def. Fred Aftergut-Stuart Myers (Grady), 6-1, 6-2; NO. 2 DOUBLES: Jack Walz-Tiny Williamson (Northside) def. Keller Carlock-Roger McConnell (North Fulton), 6-2, 6-2.

For Second Doubles Berth in State Tournament: Walz-Williamson def. Aftergut-Meyers, 6-3, 6-1.

Boyer Blasts Cincy, 5-3

ST. LOUIS, April 24 (AP) — Ken Boyer, hitting a red-hot .556, drove in four runs tonight with a homer and a single as Vinegar Bend Mizell and Ellis Kinder pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Nutting Edges AA Mark With Shot—Must Repeat

The 55-Footer Was All Right, But— A 60 Looms as Next Year's Goal

By MICKEY LOGUE

The experts who were calling 55 feet a mighty long way for a 16-year-old to put the shot were wondering if 60 isn't more what they had in mind.

The reason: Big Ed shoved the 12-pound ball 55 feet, one inch, breaking the City League record for the fourth time this season. What really sold 'em, though, was the dent Ed's effort put in the State Class AA standard.

Sixteen years ago Lanier of Macon's Joe Murrow established a 54-foot, 8-inch record. It still stands. But should Nutting duplicate his Tuesday feat at the AA meet in Athens May 4-5, he'll own the mark by three inches.

Did Tiger Coach Floyd Anderson succumb to shock after the gigantic heave? No, Floyd was rather expecting it. He'd even made a 55-foot prediction earlier in the campaign.

As a ninth grader his best was 42 feet. Nutting jumped to 50-7 as a sophomore. And this season he's consistently improved on his 1955 effort.

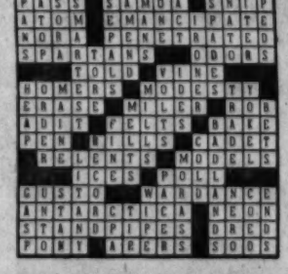

What's the forecast now? Anderson figures a 60-foot put in Ed's future by the latter stages of his senior season next spring. The present U.S. high school mark is 62-3, recently set by a Californian.

In subregional preliminaries at Grady, three pole vaulters and three high jumpers earned slots in Friday night's Region 3-AA showdown.

These Northern Division contestants were: pole vault, Ted Keen (North Fulton), Claude Grizzard (Grady) and Billy Benton (O'Keefe); high jump, Bill Alexander (Grady), Ed Dreher (North Fulton) and Donald Blanks (O'Keefe). Keen's 11-10 topped the vaulters. The jumpers tied at 5-4.

In Southern action at Cheney Stadium, Vernon Stinchcomb (Brown) and Mickey Tollison (Sylvan) locked at 9-6 in the pole vault, with Billy Chalmers (Smith) in third. James Farmer (Roosevelt) won the high jump at 5-6. David Wright (Brown) and Donald Davis (Sylvan) qualified behind him.

CRACKERS

Daniels walked, Cassini gave Stuffel a quick hook and Brown walked Meeks as a starter to load the bases with none out.

Frank DiPrima lifted a sacrifice fly for one run, and Peterson kicked Sinovic's roller, which was stamped DP, to keep the comeback alive. But Frey slapped to Kirrene, who turned the bouncer into a twin killing with Helkie's help. Frey already was across the bag at first and the Crackers put up a loud and futile beef.

Brown fanned four in the last two innings to protect Stuffel's first victory. Andy Bratkowitz shut out the Chicks in the last two heats and now has a 10-inning string of scoreless relief innings.

Rookie Barry Latman (2-0) will hurl for Memphis Wednesday. King wasn't certain about his Cracker starter.

Bush Birds Unhandy —Old Ansley Proverb

By Bert Prather

The simple way to make a birdie on the 430-yard par four second hole at Ansley Golf Club is to get there in two and sink the putt.

Bert Prather

But Bob Bush Jr., being a high handicapper, is used to getting his birds the hard way. Last week while playing in a foursome with Buck Thompson, Jack Boykin and Max Ferguson, Bob topped his tee shot, leaving himself considerably short of the ditch. He then wound up with a three wood and half-topped it, the ball striking an iron post on the bridge which spans the ditch.

The contrary little white pellet bounced back, so Bob didn't have to change clubs at least. This time he gave with a mighty swipe of the spoon and the ball flew straight for the cup. It was a shocker for his foes, but a birdie right on.

I. D. Friedland is the latest to gain membership in the local Ace Club. Playing with Joe Dayan, Jake Srochi, Irwin and Leonard Greenbaum, I. D. sank a five iron tee shot on the 180-yard No. 2 hole at Standard Town and Country Club last Thursday.

Albert Mizell had his foes asking for "freshes" on the eighth tee at Piedmont last weekend. Albert's three wood second into the 400-yard par four seventh hole landed smack in the cup for an eagle deuce.

CHIP SHOTS: Coty Cotsakis, Ansley teen-ager, posted a net 72 to take first in Ansley GC's kickoff tournament. C. L. Williamson won low gross with 76. Dameron Black Jr. was low net man in B division with 70. Nearest to flag prize went to A. C. Miller Jr. He was 6 feet 5 inches away on No. 9. . . . Joe Cernigila's first win in golf almost missed getting into print. Joe teamed with Macon pro Hugh Moore Jr. for a best ball of 60 and top place in last Friday's prom-am at West End GC. . . . A. J. Weinberg, Jack Brail and Nathan Kahn divided blind bogey honors at Standard Club Sunday after carding 72s. . . . Tommy Barnes, Bland Johnson, J. D. Croxton, Gene Dahlbender Jr. and Bill Brooker were individual prize winners in first round of AGA's Interclub League Sunday at East Lake CC.

City champion Janice Phelps, former National Amateur queen Dorothy Kirby, City junior champion Joyce Denson and State medal play champion Mary Ann Reynolds of Albany, will represent Georgia in next week's Southern Women's Amateur at Hot Springs, Va. . . . Bob Morris' 72 was good for first prize in West End's Sunday bogey. . . . K. M. McLennon and John Ransom tied for second with 74s. . . . Bill Ansley's 71 played the lead role in his foursome's victory in Sunday's East Lake dogfite. Barry Ward, Pete Barnes and Johnny Bolton were other members of the team. . . . In the EL cat and dogfite, Mrs. T. E. McGeachy, Margaret Maddox, Peggy Gude and Jan Guler captured top prize with a score of minus one. Miss Maddox came up with an 82, one of her better efforts over the No. 1 course.

Local prep swingers will be heading for Chattanooga Wednesday. The annual Southern Interscholastic tournament cranks up at Fairyland CC there Thursday and Friday for a 54-hole run. . . . Mrs. Chick Stevens, president of Meadowbrooks CC Women's Golf Assn., extends an invitation to all local players to compete in the club's annual mixed Scotch two-ball tournament May 6. The visiting ladies may bring their own partners. Entries should be made with Betty Ramos or Joyce Gimmel, co-tournament chairmen.

Knee-Hobbled Irv Noren Out for 30 Days---at Least

Compiled From Wire Reports

Outfielder Irv Noren has been placed on the disabled list by the New York Yankees, due to his inability to run.

He had both his knees operated on last November for damaged cartilage removal and must take it easy at least 30 days. The listing reduces the Yankee roster to 31 players.

Baseball in Brief

MORE BASEBALL: The Pittsburgh Pirates optioned southpaw pitcher Fred Waters to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league. Waters had an 18-3 record with Mexico City last year. . . . The Nashville Vols optioned pitcher Emanuel Senerchia, who lost both of his starts to the Atlanta Crackers this year, to Savannah of the Sally league. . . . President Warren C. Giles of the National League said that he is "convinced" that a beer bottle barrage Sunday during the New York-Philadelphia game was not directed at Giant outfielder Whitey Lockman. Giles said Lockman was "caught in a crossfire between two groups of fans." He said where paper cups are supplied with beer, no such incidents occur. . . . Commissioner Ford Frick said that major league clubs must "give and take" in relations with minor leagues. Also, on the eve of the major-minor league meeting in Cincinnati, Giles said proper harnessing of radio and television is baseball's biggest task. . . . American League umpire Frank Umont became the first arbiter to wear glasses in a regularly scheduled American League game—and not a word was heard from the leather-lunged fans—or players.

A specialist told the Milwaukee Braves that pitcher Gene Conley's arm is "showing marked improvement" and that he should be able to pitch by May 25. . . . Marty Marion, manager of the Chicago White Sox, apparently got nowhere in trade talks with Cleveland Indians' general manager Hank Greenberg. They spent two hours conferring, Marion said, and neither would give up what the other wanted. . . . New Orleans bought third baseman Vern Piver outright from the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League.

Blue Grass Stakes Derby Test for 7

Career Boy Likely Choice; At Least 3 Derby-Bound

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 24 (AP)—It looks like seven colts will test their Kentucky Derby fitness in Keeneland's Blue Grass Stakes Thursday, and the railbirds figure at least three will earn a ticket to the Derby.

The guessers count Career Boy, Reaping Right and Countermand as the sophomores likely to be Derby starters a week from Saturday. Blue Grass entries are due tomorrow morning, the other most likely prospects being Mr. Bob W., Invalidate, Mark's Rickey and Toby B. The latter is the only non-Derby eligible.

There's the possibility that one or two lesser-regarded Derby nominees might try the $25,000-added mile and an eighth prep. But the prospect of a larger field was reduced when Black Emperor, How Blue and King O Swords were named for a 7-furlong allowance race Wednesday.

The home-town duo of Fabius and Pintor Lea from Calumet Farms aims to bypass the Blue Grass. Fabius won twice this meet, including a near-record trip at 7 furlongs last Friday. Pintor Lea was fifth that outing and trainer Ben Jones listed the colt as a doubtful Derby starter. He said Pintor Lea came out of the race with a knee badly filled. The filling has gone but the trainer is waiting to see how the colt works this week.

Reaping Right, Louisiana Derby winner, was second to Fabius but 6 lengths back in the colt's brilliant sprint last week.

Countermand won at 7 furlongs here a week ago in 1:24 3-5 and worked out the mile in 1:38 3-5. Invalidate, spotting Countermand 3 pounds, was third, less than a length back.

England's Moss No 1 Driver? He'll Have To Prove It Alone

By AL THOMY

Teamwork in most sports is the desired goal. Racing as a team can sometimes prove to be an unprofitable venture.

Al Thomy

Take the case of Sterling Moss, the sensational young English sports car jockey. Many of those in the information file claim Moss is the greatest sports car driver in the world. Others carry the case for Argentina's Juan Manuel Fangio.

Moss and Fangio happen to be on the same European team, a fact that further confuses a possible comparison between the two.

Says a famous driver-mechanic:

"Often you can't compare drivers on the same team because of the orders they get from the owners. For example, let's say one of them has more points than the other and stands a chance of capturing a championship. The owner may decide to hold back the other in order to allow the point leader to bring his car into the champion's circle.

"All are driving to win, but any advantage available will always go to the man who can bring home the big championship."

There has been some talk that Moss will pull out of the Fangio stable after this season and go for the big money himself.

Among others, Roy Vernon, a local mechanic who formerly ran in the European racing circuit, believes Moss will eventually become the world's top sports car chauffeur.

Time will tell, but, as the man says, Moss must go it alone before he gets out from under the Fangio shadow.

NOTEBOOK: Trial runs at the Indianapolis Speedway get under way May 28. It's unlikely that any driver or mechanic will attempt anything except "shakedown" runs at moderate speed during the first week-end, but the pace will be increased proportionately until race date . . . Former world champion Giuseppe Farina of Italy will join the rookies for a familiarization run over the Indianapolis course before qualifying. It's the rule . . . Tim Flock was well pleased after his first run in a Chevrolet at Langhorne Sunday, where he took third place. He was knocked out of first when he stopped for gas midway the race. Incidentally, Herb Thomas, driving Tim's old Chrysler, placed second. Thomas called Tim and asked permission to take over his old car . . . Nicknames of the track: Frank (Rebel) Mundy.

Martinsville is planning a "Virginia 500" late model race on May 20 . . . Marvin Panch, who finished second in the convertible race at the Peach Bowl, has moved into third place of the National point standings.

"The Explorer," the story of a dying old man who helps his family solve its emotional problems through his unselfish kindness and wisdom, will be presented during NBC Matinee Theater.—Channel 2 (NBC-TV) at 3 p.m.

SUSPICIOUS CAT—Angela Lansbury has good reason to show fear of "Claire," a Siamese cat, as shown in this dramatic scene from the play, to be presented on Screen Directors Playhouse at 8 p.m. on Channel 2. The feline possesses an extraordinary dislike for its master's second wife and a supernatural suspicion of what happened to his first.

ANTA Studies TV Plans

By VAL ADAMS

NEW YORK, April 24 — The American National Theater and Academy has agreed to consider plans for a television series that would be presented under its auspices.

ANTA's executive committee will meet Thursday to hear plans proposed by Jack H. Skirball, Hollywood motion picture producer. It is understood that Skirball contemplates a series of one-hour film programs for TV and hopes to produce them in conjunction with ANTA.

3.7 Million Doled Out By 18 TV Quiz Shows

Billboard magazine reported the prizes included $1,580,300 worth of merchandise and trips valued at thousands, but the rest was in cold, hard cash.

The Billboard survey found that CBS viewers saw $2,293,800 given away while NBC shows handed out $800,000 and ABC, $370,000. Feather Your Nest gave away $600,000, The Big Surprise, $200,000 in giveaways, one of them $100,000, and The $64,000 Question, $420,000.

58 Million Bees Get Free Ride to Canada

EDMONTON, Alta., April 24 (UP)—A mass migration of more than 58 million bees from California to Alberta is being made by truck. C. K. Nesby, president of the Edmonton and District Beekeepers Assn., said a trucker plans to make eight trips to bring back 1,200 two-pound packages of bees. Queen bees ride separately.

"New York state official, charged with income-tax evasion, tells authorities, 'I have been drunk for five years when filling out returns.'"—News item.

Regardless of what may be said . . . you never can come out ahead . . . by mixing business with fun . . . it's something that just isn't done . . . I've know a lot of men who tried . . . and, brother, that is suicide.

Some aspirin and a steaming cup . . . of coffee when you're working up . . . your income tax, is better than . . . the stuff they bottle, keg or can . . . it's better than a fifth of gin . . . for, as you fill the figures in . . . you need a mind that's sharp and clear . . . and not confused with wine or beer . . . or any other kind of drink . . . that throws you when you try to think.

The greatest trouble with the stuff . . . it never boosts you up enough . . . to deaden that recurrent pain . . . of giving all you earned again . . . it is a game you cannot beat . . . therefore I think I'll go and heat . . . the coffee pot and drink a cup . . . and sharpen all the pencils up . . . for since it's my time to divide . . . I must be on the sober side . . . and on the side of Uncle Sam . . . who won't believe me when I am.

Cobra's 40 Eggs Stir Bronx Zoo

NEW YORK, April 24 (UP)—The potential birth rate at the Bronx Zoo soared today. A female king cobra laid nearly 40 eggs, an unusual feat for caged cobras.

This particular cobra made history a year ago by laying her first few dozen eggs. It was the first time such a thing ever happened in the Bronx Zoo reptile house.

GOULD LOOKS AT TV

Murrow Shows Study of Africa

By JACK GOULD
(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK, April 24 — See It Now, the television program of Edward R. Murrow and Fred W. Friendly, continued Monday night its invaluable service of acquainting viewers with the peoples and problems of other parts of the world.

Jack Gould

The first of a two-part study of Africa, the program was a totally absorbing account of the contrasting social and economic conditions on that huge continent. The sense of being better informed after the installment's completion was real and exciting.

See It Now divided its first installment between six countries. Through the magic of the camera one saw the Gold Coast, where the natives have considerable democracy. Liberia, which has patterned itself in so many ways on America, even to marching to "Anchors Aweigh." Kenya, where the Mau Mau have caused such a critical emergency. The Belgian Congo, where colonialism has been perhaps most successful.

The Union of South Africa, where a racial intolerance akin to Nazism threatens to explode. And Rhodesia, where the British believe partnership between white and black is the only long-range hope for peace and progress.

As is now customary with See It Now, the program concentrated on what it calls "the small picture." It gave absorbing close-ups of individuals caught in the turmoil of a continent finding its way to freedom.

Perhaps most fascinating were sequences with the confessed Mau Mau, with the Yorkshireman who believes a man should be able to think first of his country and only secondarily of his origin, with the colored woman in South Africa who was experiencing the tragedy of being reclassified downward to a native.

A serious omission from the program was an explanation of why Father Huddleston, the fearless Anglican priest who spoke out against the racist laws of South Africa, recently was recalled to England by his superiors. That is a story that assuredly deserved fuller coverage in an up-to-date report on South Africa.

New Primary Denied After Polk Vote Error

The Polk County Democratic Executive Committee admitted Tuesday that the secret ballot law was violated in the March 14 primary, but it denied a petition requesting a new primary.

R. E. Forsyth, Rockmart car dealer, who ran second in the Third District county commission race, said he would appeal the decision.

Forsyth, who was thrown into a runoff with Commission Chairman H. C. Williams for the Third District vote, based this petition on the undisputed contention that ballots were illegally numbered.

The committee went into closed session after a public hearing in the Cedartown courthouse and voted 11-5 to deny the request for a new primary. After the decision, state Rep. Paul McKelvey of Rockmart resigned from the committee "because it did not uphold the laws of Georgia."

R. B. McRae, committee chairman and Rockmart justice of the peace, refused to say how the members voted. He said a majority of the members was not in favor of revealing how they voted.

McKelvey said he, J. J. Lassitter, W. M. Morris, Roy Hammonds and C. W. McDowell voted to uphold Forsyth's protest.

Forsyth said he would appeal the decision either to the state Democratic Executive Committee or to the Superior Court.

'56 Peanut Crop Gets Price Prop Of 86 Pct. Parity

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today price supports on 1956 crop peanuts will be 86 per cent of parity, or a national average minimum of $223.60 a ton.

The parity of peanuts as calculated March 15, was $260 a ton.

The support price average of $223.60 a ton may be adjusted upward at the beginning of the marketing year Aug. 1 if at that time the parity price has gone up. It woll not, however, be decreased in the event of a decline in the parity price.

Support prices on the 1955 peanut crop averaged $244.80 a ton or 90 per cent of parity.

Prices will be supported through loans on peanuts stored both in warehouses and on farms.

Atlanta Girl Is Selected 'Miss Athens'

Constitution State News Service

ATHENS, April 24 — Carolann Connor of Atlanta was chosen Miss Athens tonight, winning a $200 scholarship to the University of Georgia and a spot in the Miss Georgia contest.

Miss Connor sang a medley from "Carousel." A radio-television major, she is Pandora Queen this year and won the "Miss Georgia Chick" contest last year. The 20-year-old blonde has also won several other beauty contests.

Two other Atlantans were runners-up in the contest. Miss Kay Holloway was second. She did a reading from "Lady in the Dark" by Moss Hart. She is a 19-year-old sophomore and an English major.

Other contestants were Louise Kent, St. Simons Island; Clarice Coleman, Jacksonville, Fla.; Connor Dyess, Kay Silvers, Savannah; Sheila Glass; Sandra Mays, Land City, Fla.; Jane Wilson, West Palm Beach, Fla., and Martha Moore, Gainesville.

His complaints about some of the Britons were made to Russian friends.

The party chief and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were guests of honor at this first big social function the Russians have given since the British-Soviet talks reached a showdown stage.

The 4,000 other guests included leading British politicians, titled Britons, comedian Charlie Chaplin and Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury.

Both British and Russian officials said Khrushchev was boiling over the treatment he got last night at a dinner given for him and Bulganin by leaders of the Labor party, the British Socialists.

POINTED QUESTION

Hugh Gaitskell, new head of the Labor party, seized this semi-public occasion to ask Khrushchev point blank if he would help obtain the release of Social Democrats (Socialists) imprisoned behind the Iron Curtain. Khrushchev replied testily that there were no Social Democrats in Russia and what happened to them in other nations was none of his business.

Today came a free-wheeling exchange with British legislators on trade and politics, at which Khrushchev finally threw up his hands.

"You may call me a pot," he said, "but don't put me on the stove."

FORGOT THE TEA

These oral fireworks exploded at a tea for the Russians in the royal gallery of the House of Lords. In the heat of the discussion, the members of Parliament forgot to offer them any tea.

Sir Robert Boothby, a Conservative, shouldered his way into the group.

"Why don't you people buy more of our herring?" Boothby asked in his booming voice.

"You can't conduct trade on the basis of herring and crabs," Khrushchev said.

"What do you want to buy?"

High Court Rewrote School Law, Vinson Tells House

ally granted to the federal government.

"The Supreme Court may say what the law is. They may not say what the law should be," he told the House. "Only the Congress may write our federal laws.

"But Congress has enacted no law with respect to the manner in which the states will conduct their public school systems because it has no constitutional authority to legislate in this field. But the Supreme has not hesitated to inject itself into the affairs of the states.

STATE AUTHORITY

"No responsible person ever really thought there was constitutional authority for this unwarranted invasion of the reserved powers of the states until the May 17, 1954, decision, when the Supreme Court abandoned all the judicial decisions of its predecessors and took it upon itself to change the Constitution in their own name.

"What happened on that day," he declared, "was that nine men of the Supreme Court unwittingly, perhaps, arrogated to themselves the whole constitutional federal system of government. While sitting nominally as a court they actually took upon themselves the powers of a constitutional convention, as well as the powers of the 531 representatives of the states sitting in the Congress, and of the legislatures of three-fourths of the states."

CALLED FALSE

As proof of his contention that the Supreme Court used the 14th Amendment as a false foundation for its segregation decision, Vinson said the very Congress which submitted the amendment and the states that ratified it had passed segregation laws.

"The same Congress which proposed the 14th Amendment to protect the Negro in his civil rights within his state," he said, "did not consider attendance at non-segregated schools one of those civil rights to which the Negro was entitled in the District of Columbia. How anyone can argue that the 14th Amendment was ever intended to prohibit segregated schools is beyond comprehension."

Vinson said he was unwilling to admit that a Supreme Court decision, "so obviously based upon sociological studies," takes precedence over the U.S. Constitution.

"If we fail to put a stop to this seemingly limitless seizure of power, the federal government will continue to reach out its tentacles like an all-enveloping octopus until there is nothing left to strangle," he warned.

"Unless we return to the principles upon which this nation was based, unless the states reassert themselves, we are on the brink of disaster."

During the course of the Vinson speech, Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga) interrupted the proceedings to demand a quorum call in order that a substantial membership could be present. He praised his fellow Georgian's remarks as an able presentation of a subject that should command the attention of Congress.

represent Mr. Samuel and Herman Kravitz as an attorney.

"Although I already have given all the information I can disclose without violating my oath as a lawyer, I have no objections to giving this information again if the committee so desires it."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), a subcommittee member, later told the Senate he knows of "nothing improper about the fee—it was a legal fee."

McCarthy had confirmed for newsmen that during the hearings the subcommittee had "established" that the M. Chotiner named by Kimmel was the Murray Chotiner who had been a key figure in the Nixon campaign. Later he told the Senate he had heard that this was being construed as evidence that "McCarthy had exposed the fact that the vice president's campaign manager" had accepted a fee from Kravitz.

McCarthy then declared that the record shows he "didn't say one single word" while others quizzed Kimmel, and that he sees nothing improper about the fee if it was paid.

NEW MILL TO RISE FROM ASHES OF OLD

Atlas Feed President Gives TIS Agent Large Credit for Survival of Business

"It was Sunday evening. I had just returned from an out-of-town trip and went to the office to pick up some papers. To my utter dismay I found the mill nothing but a smoking heap of rubble."

That was the experience of W. T. Farley, president of Atlas Feed Mills, Inc. which was completely consumed by fire on March 4.

"With all our production facilities so suddenly and completely wiped out," said Mr. Farley, "I was assailed by a thousand doubts and worries. My first thought, of course, was for our insurance. But under the stress of the moment, I couldn't for the life of me remember exactly what insurance coverage we had. Did we have enough insurance and the right kinds to cover our losses, or were we facing an insuperable financial loss that would put us out of business?

TIS PUT FEARS AT REST

"My first move was to get in touch with our insurance man, one of the local TIS agents. He put my fears at rest by reminding me that all of our machinery had been covered to its full appraisal value, that stock losses were fully covered and that we were carrying "business interruption" insurance.

"No one who has not had his business burned up can imagine what a glorious relief it was to know that we were adequately insured and that we could proceed with the re-building of the mill without severe credit problems and without depleting our capital.

"Equally important was the fact that our business interruption insurance would enable us to have our products contracted, and within 24 hours we were making deliveries of feeds made to our own formulas and under our own products-control department. Actually our sales the first week after the fire exceeded those of the previous week.

KEY PERSONNEL RETAINED

"Ever since the fire, our business interruption policy has covered the added cost of contracted production and has paid the salaries of all of our skilled and experienced personnel so that they will not be lost to us. This insurance will continue to pay these heavy expenses until we are back in production in our new plant which is now being built.

"Only through the benefits of our business interruption insurance have we been able to hold our customers and keep them supplied with products of the same high quality as in the past.

"The fact that we are in business today and will soon be in a modern new mill is due largely to the skillful insurance programming and conscientious service of our TIS agent. I dislike to think where we would be today if it weren't for him."

INSURANCE SURVEYED

"Prior to taking over our insurance program, this agent persuaded us to let him survey our insurance program as it existed then. He convinced us that we were dangerously under-insured and that serious gaps existed in our insurance protection. He pointed out, for example, that we had no extended coverage whatever, that our stock was inadequately protected and that our insurance on machinery fell far short of the appraised value. We permitted him to overhaul our insurance program to give us broader coverage. Along with the general revamping, he added the business interruption insurance which is paying off so handsomely today.

GRATEFUL TO TIS

"Since that time our TIS has been closely attentive to our insurance needs, showing as much interest in saving us money on insurance as in selling it. After the fire he assisted us in dealing with the adjustors and guided us through the intricacies of claims settlement. This service alone was of great value to us.

"I shall be forever grateful that our TIS agent came along. His services have meant nearly $250,000 to us. And but for his advice and guidance through the years, we would probably not be in business today."

* * *

Many businessmen have had experiences similar to Mr. Farley's. Fires or other emergencies have befallen them; but, because they have had the good judgement and foresight to place their insurance in the hands of a TIS agent they have sustained no crippling losses. There are others, however, whose businesses have been wiped out because their insurance was improperly planned.

If your business or personal property is not insured by a TIS, you would do well to call one of the insurance agents listed below. He will gladly study your entire insurance program and make recommendations. You will be in no way obligated, but it may save your business tomorrow.

GEORGIA BAPTISTS HONOR DR. TIPPETT
Presented Gift by Dr. Frank C. Underwood at Rites

Baptist Convention Lauds Its Retiring Dr. Tippett

By KAY McLEOD

Georgia Baptists honored the man they call the "most outstanding in Sunday school work in the world" here Tuesday night.

Dr. T. W. Tippett, retiring at the end of this year as secretary of the Georgia Sunday School Convention, was praised by Baptist leaders from throughout the South.

He was given a monetary gift as an expression of thanks for his 22 years of service.

Dr. Arthur Jackson, retired secretary of the Georgia Foundation, said no other man has helped him to do God's will as much as Dr. Tippett.

Dr. Jackson said, "He challenged the good in me."

AT FIRST BAPTIST

Mrs. G. L. Braden, secretary to Dr. Tippett for 15 years, said the work done by him will serve as a "shining light" for Georgia Baptists to follow in the future.

Others who joined in the tribute to their leader were the Rev. W. A. Anderson and the Rev. R. L. Harvey, associates of Dr. Tippett in the state organization.

Miss Ethel Davis, Mrs. A. F. McMahon, Miss Susie Eubanks, Mrs. J. J. Hurt and Miss Kathleen Aycock, friends and former associates, also spoke.

The convention elected Dr. Frank C. Underwood Jr. new president at the morning session. Later in the day they named the Rev. L. E. Smith secretary-treasurer.

VICE PRESIDENTS

Vice presidents named were the Rev. Harry Wootton, Atlanta; the Rev. John Tippett, Carrollton; M. E. Butler, Alma; J. Robert Smith, Thomson; Mrs. Richard Parrish, Valdosta, and Miss Blossom Thompson, Decatur.

All officers were elected to a two-year term.

It was also announced that the 1957 convention will be held April 22-24 at the Bull's Creek Church in Savannah.

Fulton Cancer Drive Says Early Totals at $15,000

About $15,000 was reported raised Tuesday night in Fulton's "One-Night Crusade Against Cancer" as 12,000 volunteer workers visited 120,000 homes, Fanning Miles, volunteer coordinator, said shortly after midnight.

However, Miles said this total represented only seven of 112 areas, and that the response was greater than anticipated — which resulted in more money and more reports.

He said exact figures probably would not be available until Wednesday morning.

In DeKalb County, L. R. Armstrong, of the DeKalb unit of the American Cancer Society, said reports were not completed at a late hour and that it would probably be Wednesday morning before results were known.

"But it looks good," he said, "and we're very optimistic about success of the drive."

Miles said the volunteers first brought their collections to a district station where it was counted. It then was transferred to pickup centers and taken in armored trucks to various banks.

Lassies Go Home

SINGAPORE, April 24 (AP)—Nine hundred Chinese, mostly women who worked as housemaids in Malaya and Singapore, are en route to Red China by ship. They chose to go home.

Stolen Car Slides in Safe at Home But Yegg's Tools Are Out, Safes Safer

The caller reported that someone stole his pickup truck and later abandoned it.

"I got my truck back all right," he said. "But the crooks took my tools."

Police said the caller, who identified himself by name, evidently spent most of his time working on safes—without the knowledge of the owners.

DeKalb Seeks U.S. Cash for Home for Old

DeKalb County will ask the federal government for $100,000 to aid in the erection of a home for the aged, Commissioner Wheat Williams said Tuesday.

The application, to be filed with the Georgia State Department of Public Health Monday for forwarding to Washington, will specify that an equal amount be provided by the county.

He said the proposed home would accommodate 40 nursing patients, the majority of whom would pay their own expenses.

Bell and Union Meet To Plan Negotiations

Negotiators for Southern Bell and for the Communication Workers of America, hopeful of avoiding a deadlock such as occurred last year, met Tuesday to map discussion procedure.

A spokesman for the company said another meeting will be held next week.

State Forms Drive and Survive Push

With the fatality and property damage toll from traffic up again in 1956, Georgians were urged to "slow down and live" this summer.

J. H. (Tommy) Thompson, state chairman of the nationwide Slow Down and Live Program, began the first phase of the program Tuesday by naming committee chairmen to handle the safety campaign.

Chairmen are: Civic club programs, A. B. Reddick; newspaper publicity, George L. Evoy; enforcement, Col. W. C. Dominy; outdoor advertising, Charles C. Knight; veterans' organizations, Peter Wheeler; radio and television, Travis Stewart; women's organizations, Mrs. Fred Knight; peace officer organizations, Capt. E. D. Mink.

Thompson said a chairman would also be appointed to handle the campaign in federal government installations.

Plans were made at the meeting at the Variety Club for an intensified safety campaign to begin May 30 and extend through Labor Day.

Col. W. A. (Deacon) Jones of the Georgia Department of Public Safety, told the meeting 27 more people have been killed on Georgia highways so far this year than during the same period last year.

He said the number of killed and injured and economic loss resulting from highway mishaps have risen sharply.

House Body Lauds Boys Institution

By CELESTINE SIBLEY
Constitution Staff Writer

MILLEDGEVILLE, April 24—A House subcommittee investigating state facilities for delinquent youth inspected the State Training School for Boys here Tuesday and declared it is "doing an excellent job."

Rep. Benson Matheson of Hart County, chairman of the legislative committee, said the school, which has an enrollment of 450 teen-age boys, approaches being a model institution. He commended W. E. Ireland, longtime superintendent of the boys' division who now serves as director of all training schools, for his administrative skill and understanding of problem young people.

A detailed report of the committee's finding will be made within a week or two after the inspection is concluded with a tour of the Girls Training School at Adamsville Wednesday, Rep. Matheson said.

Members of the committee indicated they would recommend the construction of a new activities building at the Training School for Negro Girls at Macon. Two additional classrooms are needed, Matheson said, and they could be combined with units for recreation and vocational training. The committee inspected the Macon school for Negro girls Monday and the Augusta school for Negro boys Tuesday afternoon.

51 Adults, Teens To Lead Anti-Delinquency Battle

By GENE LeGETTE

A 51-person committee to combat juvenile delinquency on the Northside was projected Tuesday night in the Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church by the Family Life Institute steering committee.

Created as a perpetuating group, the committee will be composed of two tennagers for each adult member.

It will be governed by a seven-person executive board elected from the larger group, the steering committee announced.

Named as part of the larger group will be 15 teenagers (one from each grade) from Westminster, North Fulton and Northside High Schools. In addition, one adult member will be named by each school principal.

CIVIC CLUBS

Adult or teenage representatives will be requested from the Buckhead Rotary Club, the Buckhead Lions Club, the Buckhead Civitan Club, the Buckhead Exchange Club, the Northside Optimist Club, the Northside Kiwanis Club, the Northside Exchange Club, the Buckhead Merchants Assn., the Buckhead Elks Club and the Sandy Springs Civic Club.

Four adult and 19 teenage members are to be provided by the 17 churches cooperating in the institute, steering committee Chairman James B. Finley said.

In the three high schools, appointments for the top four grades will be made by the student councils. Eighth grade choices will be made 30 days after the new school year begins.

MAY 8 MEETING

All committee appointments must be made by the next meeting of the steering committee, May 8. The committee will meet at 8 p.m. in the Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church.

Other steering committee members at Tuesday night's meeting were teenage representatives Ted Thranhardt, 1220 Morris Mill Rd., NW; Ivan Allen III, 3700 Northside Dr., NW, and Claire Hollingsworth, 2572 Acorn Ave., NE. Adult members were Duncan Peek, 706 Conway Rd., NW; Mrs. J. R. Garstad, 729A Lindbergh Dr., NE, and J. Ralph Kemp, counselor at Northside High School.

NCO Club Hosts Forest Park JCs

Col. Webster L. Simons welcomed the Jaycees, representing depot commander Brig. Gen. J. R. Ranck, who is on leave.

Services Here To Honor Gray Dead Thursday

Confederate Memorial Day services at Oakland Cemetery and Westview Cemetery Thursday will memorialize the Gray dead of the War Between the States.

He will be introduced by Carl T. Sutherland, city personnel director. R. L. (Shorty) Doyal will be master of ceremonies.

Maj. Fonville McWhorter, grandson of a Confederate veteran, will speak at Westview at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. G. Neal Ellis, president of the Dorothy Blount chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will preside.

Restaurant Fire Cracks Murals

Patrolmen J. R. Caylor and W. W. Gable said the fire evidently started in a loft where an acetylene torch had been used earlier to cut a hole through a steel beam for a water line. It spread to the kitchen and dining room before being brought under control.

Preston Weeks, manager, said the heat cracked several expensive murals and that smoke and water damage would total several thousand dollars. He said the loss was covered by insurance.

By BETTY CARROLLTON

When Col. John F. Hough, director of the Sixth Marine Corps Reserve District, retires from the service in June, his family's home address will be 739 Greenview Ave., NE.

Atlanta has won over such exotic places as Shanghai and Peiping, Samoa, Cuba and Japan as the place the Houghs want to call home.

Personable, silver-haired Mrs. Hough has been a Marine wife since 1927, when she married the dashing second lieutenant she met at a college dance.

She attended the dance as the date of Lt. Hough's roommate. About all she remembers of her date for that evening is that he introduced her to her future husband.

SEA DUTY

Shortly after their April wedding, Lt. Hough teasingly told his wife that if he found married life too rough, he could always ask for sea duty. He's still trying to convince her it was only a coincidence he was shipped out eight months after they were married.

During the year that her husband was on duty in Nicarauga, Mrs. Hough learned the first lesson of a military bride: Patience and understanding during months of separation.

"It had been a long year," she recalled, "and I was afraid I wouldn't know my husband when I saw him."

REUNION

During his 31-year career, Col. Hough and his family have lived in dozens of strange places. Jeff, now 19, was born in Shanghai while Col. Hough was serving with the Fourth Marines.

"WATER ON 3 SIDES"

"Our quarters were right on the bay," she recalled, "with water on three sides. The rooms were huge: The living and dining room was 54 feet across and a porch 75 feet long ran the length of the house."

TANG DYNASTY

Japanese swords, plaques and citations presented to the colonel command places of honor. In the den, there also are battle souvenirs from Guadalcanal.

Col. Hough reported for duty in Atlanta in August, 1952. The Northside Kiwanis Club selected him as its man of the year for 1955. Mrs. Hough is active in the Kenmore Assn., and the Navy-Marine Town Wives Club, of which she is a past president.

Jarley's Wax Works Characters To Visit Dickens' Old Book Store

Ye Olde Curiosity Shoppe will open in Sandy Springs Plaza on May 4, and nearby Charles Dickens will preside over his Old Book Store, assisted by Mrs. Dickens.

Visitors may walk down Drury Lane, and find homemade cakes and pies on Pudding Street. Tea and crumpets may be had on the road to Chelsea, and one may stop in at Mrs. Grimwig's Doll Shop for hand-made doll wardrobes.

Members of Holy Innocents Church of Sandy Springs will re-create Dickens' beloved scene for their bazaar to be held from 10 a.m. through the evening. The rector of the church, the Rev. James Vaught, will portray Mr. Dickens and Mrs. Vaught will be Mrs. Dickens.

Mrs. John Strickland is in charge of staging and decorations and Mrs. Mary Simmons is general chairman. They have planned a Country Store on Drury Lane, just off Margate road, where cheeses, jam, treacle and puddings may be found, and there will be a Giftie Shoppe.

At Quilp's Wharf may be found all kinds of beach combings from sea shells to fishing corks, and at Jarley's Wax Works may be seen Mme. de Pompadour, Cleopatra, Marie Antoinette, Napoleon, Tiny Tim, Mme. LaFarge and other famous and infamous characters.

Covent Gardens is the spot to find nice strong plants, cut flowers and containers for arrangements, and at the Fish and Chips Shop there will be delicious sandwiches and hot dogs.

Unsolicited Advice to FHA

Well, of course, the government didn't invite me to come up to Washington to give the Federal Housing Agency any of my excellent advice.

All I am is an expert in what not to have in houses, that's all, but you don't catch this administration (or any administration, if it comes to that) urging me to hop on a plane with my portfolio full of ideas and come to Washington.

No, sir, they can ask plenty of other women. A hundred other women, to be exact, but not me.

It may be as Rep. James M. Quigley, a Republican congressman from Pennsylvania, says. It may be a women's congress on housing is a "ridiculous waste of the taxpayers' money." I say it may, mind you. I don't say it is because that would sound like sour grapes because Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole neglected to ask me, and I don't really know for sure, anyhow. When the reports from those other 100 women are in, we'll see.

Meanwhile, in case Housing Chief Cole is regretting his negligence in not asking me to his congress I'm going to be a good sport and make my ideas available to him anyhow. You don't catch me sitting around pouting. (On second thought, this is a beautiful day for sitting in the back yard pouting, but I've got to take a try anyhow.)

To get to the Sibley Helpful Hints to Housing Administrators:

To begin with, where it says neighborhood and community planning, I think every future FHA-financed home in America ought to be built where children can either walk or catch a bus to every single social, cultural, athletic or spiritual event they attend. Too many homes in Atlanta are built 15 miles from where the children take music or dancing or go after school to play and all that traffic you see jammed bumper-to-bumper along our main streets is mothers' driving groups.

It would be handy, too, if the government would fix it so those all-important Best Friends lived within two blocks of each other, if not next door, so many teen-age hours wouldn't be wasted in travel or telephoning. (For a week my 15-year-old hasn't had time to clean up her room because she was either talking to Sissy over the telephone or outfitting herself for a safari to darkest Peachtree Street to "meet Sissy at the drugstore.")

Neighborhood planning can, I suppose, be carried too far. It would be awful to have a government bureau picking your neighbors for you, as to income bracket, age of children and religious affiliation. In our neighborhood we're as tolerant of the lady who comes and goes in a machine driven by a liveried chauffeur as we are of the elderly rag-picker who coasts down the hill in a child's express wagon. We have all ages, too, and we like it that way.

But it would be nice if when buying an FHA house you could learn if there were a trumpet player or a fledgling Paderewski in the neighborhood. The terms probably should be adjusted if you're willing to live next door to a boy who works on old cars, has a chemistry set or beats the drums.

Now if they had asked me . . . ! But they didn't, and it's just as well, I suppose. My ideas aren't too revolutionary. All I have to suggest is that they figure out some way to keep houses from needing dusting, install sound-proof rooms to which parents can retire when the going gets too rough for them and restore front porches to their former place in our way of life.

Testifying for Congress Impresses Athens Woman

By MARY DENMARK HUTCHERSON
Constitution State News Service

ATHENS, April 24—An Athens grandmother who recently testified before a congressional committee returned home with a new appreciation for the woes of representatives.

"I never realized what problems they face, what pressures they're under and how much tedious testimony they have to listen to," remarked Mrs. Charles G. Benson, president of the 127-member League of Women Voters of Athens.

Mrs. Benson, along with four other league members from various parts of the country, was summoned to Washington to appear at a hearing of the House Ways and Means Committee.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

The hearing concerned the In-

The hearing concerned the In-Trade Cooperation, and the five women were there to present the league's stand on international trade.

"The league favors trade policies that will help solve national and international economic problems," Mrs. Benson explained.

"Therefore, two years ago the league conducted a nationwide survey to determine the effects of international trade on the economy of various sections of the country."

With Mrs. Benson as chairman, the Athens league undertook a survey among Clarke County farmers and manufacturing concerns.

COMPETITIVE IMPORTS

"The manufacturers generally oppose any lowering of the protective tariff," she reported. "They fear competitive imports.

"On the other hand, more than half of them believe that their businesses are helped by the expansion of export trade. Consequently, they realize that imports are necessary to hold on to foreign markets.

"Most of the farmers, however, think that liberalization of trade policies is necessary if they are to sell their exports."

Not too long after copies of the survey results had been dispatched to Georgia senators and to 10th District Rep. Paul Brown, Mrs. Benson was invited to appear before the Ways and Means Committee.

"NEVER SO SURPRISED"

"I've never been so surprised as I was when that telegram arrived. Appearing before Congress was about the last thing I ever thought I'd be doing.

"I was puzzled at first why the survey of such a small area should be included in the hearings; but I believe the reason is that the situation in Clarke County is a small, clear picture of the general changes and conditions in trade all over the Southeast."

The hearings were held in a "rather large hall," Mrs. Benson recalled. The committee, led by Rep. Jere Cooper of Tennessee, sat at one end of the room. The five women, at a long table, faced them. And an audience of 100 or more watched the proceedings.

The opposition to the Organization for Trade Cooperation spoke first. Then the league members presented their written statements.

"I expected to be frightened to death," Mrs. Benson said, "but I wasn't nervous at all."

Her survey of Clarke County was supplemented by summaries of research done in Savannah, Thomasville and Albany.

Now that the hearings are history, Mrs. Benson is back home to superintend the activities of the local league and to devote a large part of her time to her five grandchildren.

Active work with the Red Cross during the war when three of her four children were in service was responsible in part for her interest in national and intenational affairs, an interest which led her into league work six years ago.

A woman who once aspired to write the "great American novel," Mrs. Benson has no patience for those people who preach a doctrine of reaction and isolation rather than one of international cooperation.

"In the world we live in today," she warned, "there can be no such thing as isolation."

Pilots Plan Brunswick Convention

Mrs. Georgena Havlena of Washington, D.C., will speak at the spring convention of District I, Pilots International, to be held in Brunswick Friday and Saturday at the Oglethorpe Hotel.

She will discuss the topic, "Women of Service, Yours Is the Earth."

District chairmen will outline the plans of work for 1956 at the Saturday morning session. Miss Rosemary Cook of Augusta, district chairman of the coordinating committee, will be in charge.

Highlighting the afternoon session will be a panel discussion on suggestions for officers and Pilots, with Miss Hildegarde Robinson of Albany as moderator.

Election of officers will be held at the business session Sunday morning. At that time, Mrs. Havlena will give a report on work of Pilot International for the year, and the Club of the Year and Scrapbook Awards will be presented.

Miss Heard, Mr. Gibbs Are Married

CUMMING, April 24 — Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Heard of Eastern Heights, Cumming, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Lou Virginia Heard, to Charles Stanley Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibbs of Ball Ground.

The bride's brother, Herman Heard, lighted the altar candles and Mr. Heard gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Peggy Galloway of Cumming was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. Charles Vaughn of Ball Ground was best man for Mr. Gibbs.

After the service, Mr. and Mrs. Heard were hosts at a reception.

The bride, a graduate of Cumming High School, has been employed as secretary by Col. Leon Boling for the past two years.

Mr. Gibbs attended the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia. He is now serving with the U.S. Army at Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey.

Symmetry, Measure of Shapeliness

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Symmetry is the measure of a shapely figure. So whip out the tape and see how your hips measure up in proportion to the bust circumference. While this spring's narrow skirts would seem to make slim hips de rigueur, fashion has to allow for hip variations. Some hips are just naturally fuller.

By the way, there is never any question about where to measure the hips. Circle the tape around the fullest area so as to include the gluteus maximus muscle which pads and shapes the hips. If your hips measure not more than 2½ inches larger than the bust circumference, that is average and this measurement is in good proportion.

In fashion parlance, slender hips are never more than an inch larger than the bust—a standard difference for models and movie stars. Full hips measure 4 inches larger than the bust circumference. Anything beyond the full measure is . . . outside.

OVERWEIGHT GENERALLY

If you are overweight generally, then, of course, diet is in order. But when weight is within normal range, exercise can put a stop to spreading hips, and what is more, can slim bulky inches off this measurement by restoring tone to flabby muscles. Toned muscles are always more shapely.

Movement: Raise right leg and right arm a few inches off floor. Stretch and hold. Relax. Repeat slowly 3 times, then do exercise with opposite leg and arm. Later stretch on the bias, raising one leg and opposite arm—pull.

Movement: Shuttle into action, crossing and re-crossing the legs in as wide an action as possible. Repeat 12 times, relax, and change sides and swing again.

BICYCLE EXERCISE

Position: Lying on side, head pillowed on folded arm, palm of other hand braced on floor.

Movement: Flex alternate knees, bringing them briskly toward chest, working the knees in a piston action, shooting legs straight down and bending alternate knees toward chest. This affords the same exercise as the well-known high bicycle exercise taken with feet hoisted in air but this side bicycle is far easier and safer.

With weight at or near normal and tone in the figure controlling muscles, your hip measurement will be right for you.

Sea Island Trio Plans Visit Here for Opera

A trio of Sea Island matrons, Mrs. M. S. Tappan, Mrs. Eugene McNeel and Mrs. Ryburn Clay, had planned to join Mrs. Walker Hill here for a house party during opera, and were to be guests at the Colonial Terrace where Mrs. Hill has had an apartment all winter.

However, after last week's fire, their plans had to be changed. Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Tappan and Mrs. Clay will be guests of Mrs. Donald McClain on Cherokee road, while Mrs. McNeel will visit Mrs. William A. Parker across the street. The threesome will arrive early on Wednesday, and the house party guests will be extensively entertained at the opera festivities.

After opera, Mrs. Hill will return to Sea Island to move into her new home, a two-story Regency house built next door to Casa Contenta, her former home on Sea Island drive. Mrs. Tappan formerly lived in Mansfield, Ohio, but now makes her home on the island, and Mrs. Clay has recently bought a house there.

AFTER SPENDING THE WINTER at the Osceola Inn in Clearwater, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. William Akers will return this week to Idalakers, their summer home on Spalding drive, in time for opera.

OTHERS RETURNING in time for opera are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Beers who have been on a cruise to the Orient since early January. They are expected home this week.

THOUGH ILLNESS INTERRUPTED the visit of a former Atlantan, Mrs. Mason Ezell of Memphis, to her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Latimer of Woodcrest avenue, she has entirely recovered and will return home this evening.

MRS. GEORGE GRIFFIN JR. is enjoying a spring visit in the national capital where she is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Spayde.

MR. AND MRS. LUTHER BRIDGERS are home again after a week of shopping and theater-going in New York and Washington.

MEMBERS OF THE PI K. A. FRATERNITY at Emory University will motor to Cartersville on Saturday to be guests of the chapter's Dream Girl, Miss Barbara Frier, for a barbecue at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ryan Frier.

Supper will be served on the terrace which will be gaily lighted with Japanese lanterns, and the tables will be covered with colorful cloths. Afterward Miss Frier and her guests will attend the dance at the Cartersville Country Club.

DR. JOHN TATE, pastor of St. Mark Methodist Church, and Mrs. Tate are attending the general conference of the Methodist Church in Minneapolis. They will return on May 2.

MRS. JAMES D. WYKER of Mount Vernon, Ohio, vice president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., has been chosen by The Christian Century as one of the six Protestant churchwomen exerting the greatest influence in American church life today.

Mrs. Wyker, who is an ordained minister and the wife of a minister, is a past president of the United Church Women of America and is well known here from frequent visits to Atlanta.

MISS PAT CRAWFORD of College Park is one of the seven girls selected for the Kappa Sigma fraternity's Dream Girl Court at Duke University. From the members of the court, who are chosen by the chapter, this year's Dream Girl will be named.

MRS. PAUL D. DODDS of Los Angeles, national chairman of the Alpha Chi Omega Mothers' Clubs, will arrive in the city tomorrow for a visit. Members of the local Mothers' Club will entertain at luncheon for her at the Capital City Club.

On Friday Mrs. Matthew H. Scott, past national president of Alpha Chi Omega, will accompany Mrs. Dodds to Athens for a visit to the Alpha Chi Omega chapter at the University of Georgia.

MISS KAY LORING of 894 Oakdale Rd., who is a freshman at the University of Michigan, is a pledge of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority there.

Show To Feature 'Medley of Hymns'

"Medley of Hymns" will be the theme of the Covenant Garden Club's flower show set for Thursday at the Covenant Presbyterian Church.

Neighboring clubs will participate and members of Girl Scout Troop No. 27 will have an educational exhibit. Mrs. R. J. Griffin is chairman for the show

Northside PTA Plans Spelling Bee Tuesday

Child Growing Up Feels Small, Alone

Little Paul, a busy robin in a red snowsuit, was at the back door, temporarily moored in his mother's arms. Taking off the helmet that fastened under his chin, his mother said, "Look!" Paul was shorn. Stripped of his yellow curls, he was no longer a baby.

He had changed in many ways. Now he was walking, and always in inexorable pursuit of something he couldn't have. He was suddenly shy with an old friend. Hand him a toy and like a puppy in a strange house he wouldn't touch it until the hand that proffered it was far out of reach. Touch him and he would howl.

GRANDMOTHER UPSET

This sudden aloofness in a formerly sunny, friendly child is disconcerting. Adults, especially grandparents who have known the child since infancy, feel repudiated and hurt. "His grandmother is terribly upset," Paul's mother confessed. "She thinks something has frightened him."

Has it? Probably not. Paul is about 1½ years old. He is walking without holding an adult hand. Formerly he met adults either from inside the curve of his mother's protective arm, from her lap, or from his carriage. Often he went from one soft lap to another. Now he is on his own. He stands alone in the world. Everything and everyone is enormous. What one looks up at takes on a new aspect. Adult legs stretch to the sky. A dog is a horse.

Think back a bit when Paul was a tiny baby, two weeks old. You had seen no other babies or children since he was born. Suddenly a cousin, all of four years old, came to call. After two weeks of Paul's delicacy, of this head so tiny it could be cradled in his father's two hands, how gross, how enormous the four-year-old's head and features appeared.

EVERYTHING'S SO BIG

To Paul, for the first time standing and looking up, the entire world must appear in similar guise. The known now is strange, the familiar unfamiliar. If he could put it into words, he might say, "All is so big, big, BIG! . . . and I am so little."

But because he can walk, he can't admit to being little. Walking means power. Walking means the ability to do for himself. Walking means, at last, I am I, proud, independent, and quite able to throw myself into a temper tantrum if anyone large looms across my path or anyone large attempts to thwart me in my progress.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of spades.

On a casual encounter with today's hand the talent scout might observe nothing worthy of a report to headquarters. Yet the deal presented an object lesson for both defense and offense.

North opened with one diamond and East, loaded down with the adverse suit, did not consider a vulnerable overcall to be a good risk even at the level of one. South had the classic hand for a two no trump response and North carried on to three.

West chose to open the nine of spades. Some players prefer to lead the fourth best from this holding in an effort to give partner the count. But it is the conviction of this department that with apparently hopeless hands of this type, efforts to develop the longest suit are usually futile, and, an attempt should be made to do something for partner in the one time that opener will find himself "at bat." On this theory the heart would have been the preferred lead.

Declarer won the lead in dummy with the queen and immediately led a low club. East ducked and the queen held the trick. If the club suit would provide three tricks, declarer would not have to concern himself with the diamond fines. If each defender has three clubs, the fourth club will automatically develop, but if they are 4-2, an effort should be made to bring down the ace with a small card. So declarer entered dummy with the king of diamonds and led another low club. When the ace appeared the contract was assured.

Had declarer led either the first or second club from his own hand, dummy's jack would have been smothered and South would have had a rough road to travel. He then would have been left with only eight tricks and could now bring in the hand only by inspired card reading which would involve refusing the diamond finesse in favor of an end play on East. This could be accomplished only by ducking a heart and cashing out the tricks in the black suits before throwing East in with a heart.

U.N. Council To Hear Talk By Dr. Lerche

"Crises in the World Situation Today" will be the topic discussed by Dr. Charles O. Lerche, professor of political science at Emory University, at the meeting of the United Nations Council on Friday, April 27, at 11 a.m., at the Atlanta Public Library.

Tift Alumnae Assn. Plans Tea Saturday

A selection of Scottish ballads will highlight the program at the Tift Alumnae Assn. tea, to be held Saturday, April 28, from 3:30 to 5 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Olin F. Cofer, 948 Lullwater Rd.

Mrs. Walter A. Brown will sing the ballads, to the accompaniment of her clarsach, a Scottish harp, which she learned to play while she was in Edinburgh, Scotland.

In the receiving line will be Mrs. Cofer, a trustee of the college; Dr. Carey T. Vinzant, president of the college, and Mrs. Vinzant; Miss Gertrude Harris, president of the senior division of the Atlanta association, and Miss Olena McCullers, president of the junior division.

Officers will be elected and installed at the tea. Those serving on the nominating committee are Mrs. Louie D. Newton, Miss Lucile Moncrief and Mrs. Emmett Jackson.

Members who have been selected to pour at the tea include Dr. Lelia Denmark, Mrs. Evelyn Ewing, Mrs. Clifford Ragsdale and Mrs. Walter R. Thomas. Mrs. I. J. Phillips is chairman of refreshments.

Armstrong Baby

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hal Armstrong announce the birth of a son, Paul Douglas, on April 13 at Crawford Long Hospital.

Toney School Plans Student Registration

Registration for first grade students will be held at Toney Elementary School Wednesday, April 25, at 9 a.m.

A question and answer period for parents will be conducted by Ellis Holland, principal.

List Eases Down On Brief Selloff

Key Areas Are Sprinkled With Drops of 1 to 4 Points

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—The stock market today ran into two flurries of selling—one early and one late—and closed at its lows.

The drop in prices was not extensive and no great selling pressure developed. Trading activity, however, did pick up appreciably during the periods of retreat.

Losses of 1 to around 4 points were found in almost all major divisions, particularly steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, nonferrous metals, chemicals, railroads and oils. Plus signs usually were linked with corporate developments.

IN DECLINING PHASE

The market has been in a declining phase ever since it established a record high two weeks ago Friday. It has been moving irregularly lower and selling flurries have been frequent.

The market started higher but soon ran into slow selling that gained momentum and burst into a selling flurry in the second hour. Prices recovered from their lows but near the close there was renewed selling that pressed prices to the bottom.

Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.20 at $188. Industrial component slipped $2, railroads were off $1.10 and utilities remained unchanged.

700 ISSUES DROP

The market was composed of 1,207 individual issues of which 263 rose and 700 fell with 44 new highs and 91 new lows.

U. S. Steel was the day's most active issue, off 1⅛ at 60¾ on 28,600 shares. After the close directors declared the usual dividend of 65 cents for the quarter and reported record high earnings.

It was followed by General Motors off ⅜ at 44⅛, Fruehauf Trailer unchanged at 37⅞ and Pepsi-Cola up ½ at 25.

EASTMAN ADVANCES

Eastman Kodak reported a record first quarter and gave promise of a split or stock dividend. The stock was up ½ at 89½. American Can reported record high first quarter earnings and said its competitive position never had been better. It fell back ¼ at 45⅛.

Climax Molybdenum said no definite decision had been reached on a split. It was off 3 at 72¼. Seiberling Rubber management won 11 of 15 seats on the board of directors at the end of a proxy fight. It fell 1⅛ at 15½.

Capital's Viscounts Are Luxury Craft

By BOB SIBLEY

Capital Airlines' turbo-prop Viscounts were impressively introduced in Atlanta Tuesday.

From the moment the four Rolls-Royce engines began their powerful purr, business leaders and newsmen—on a preview flight—knew they had an interesting 80 minutes ahead.

The Viscount's distinctive sound, a high-pitched whistle which emanates from the turbo-prop engines, makes the aircraft "sing" as it climbs higher and faster than any other airliner.

Excellent cabin pressure prevents the uncomfortable "ear popping" usually associated with a rapidly climbing plane. At 10,000 feet, the cabin pressure is sea level; at 20,000 feet, the cabin pressure is 4,000 feet above sea level.

QUIET AS AN OFFICE

Normal conversations can be carried on without straining to hear. "This is as quiet as my office," commented one businessman as he talked across the aisle with a business associate.

Another feature of the turbo-prop engines is much less vibration for the passenger cabin, since the turbo-props don't have the regular engine's moving parts.

The jet-prop (turbo-prop) engines powering the Viscounts operate on the same principle as the engines powering high-speed military aircraft. In jet-prop engines the jet stream drives a turbine and 80 per cent of the jet thrust is harnessed to a propeller.

DINNER TABLE AT HAND

The businessman, who needs to work while flying to an appointment, will like the handy table that easily flips out from the back of each seat. The table provides a sturdy base at mealtime, too.

Although the Viscount is known as a fast, luxurious aircraft, the manufacturers—Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd.—have incorporated many new plus features in the jet-prop plane.

Equipped with anti-skid brakes, the Viscount can't skid on slick pavements no matter how hard the pilot jams on the brakes. An automatic control releases enough to prevent a skid and still maintain braking efficiency.

Capital officials here for the preview run—actual service to New York and other points begins Sunday—include James W. Austin, vice president-traffic and sales; James B. Franklin, vice president-operations and maintenance; Hayes Dever, secretary and director of public relations, and Jennings Randolph, assistant to the president. Neil Ritter is district sales manager.

Lint Rallies, Then Eases

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale lower to 40 cents higher today. Spot house buying of new crop months paced the rally at the start which extended gains to 90 cents a bale. When the demand was satisfied the market eased on profit-taking and hedging.

On the initial bulge, a spot house bought more than 6,000 bales in new crop months. There were no May transferable notices issued and old crop May futures reached a new season's high at 35.81 cents a pound.

The government weekly weather report on cotton was mixed. It noted that in Texas dry soils have slowed germination and may cause a reduction in cotton acreage in that state. The Agriculture Department authorized Finland to buy an estimated 16,300 bales of cotton. Contracting period is April 30-Nov. 30, with April 30-Dec. 31 the delivery period.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, April 24 (AP)—Cotton futures were irregular here Tuesday with old crop months under pressure of long liquidation. New crops were mostly higher on trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were steady 75 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher.

Atlanta Produce

On the Atlanta fruit and vegetable market receipts and trading were very light for most commodities Tuesday morning. Prices showed very little change, according to the AMS.

Grapefruit was firm to trifle higher as Florida boxes of 64-70s moved at 2.70-3.00 and larger sizes 3.00-3.30; cartons were 1.35-1.50 on 64-70s and 1.50-1.65 for larger sizes. Oranges were steady and mostly unchanged. Fresh offerings of Louisiana strawberries were quoted at 7.75, while holdover stock brought 6.00-6.50. Some Alabama 24-quart crates of berries were 1.00 on Tennessee Beautys and few Missionarys went at 8.40 per crate.

Georgia cabbage supplies were increasing with best Georgia and Florida stock jobbing 1.15-1.25 per bag and some poorer 1.00. Sweet potatoes were slow, but holding unchanged. Georgia English peas were 2.50-3.00 bushel; green onions in lighter volume at 65-75c dozen bunches; turnip greens were in light volume at 1.50-1.75 and few lower; collards and turnips were 1.25-1.50 dozen and few mustard greens ranged 1.25-1.75 bushel.

Florida new potatoes, both reds and Sebagos weer steady and unchanged. Few colored butterbeans were 5.50 bushel, few Tendergreen beans leftover at mostly 3.00-3.25; poles 4.75-5.25 and some poorer lower; eggplant was 2.00-2.50 and poorer 1.00 and up; cucumbers best 5.50-6.00; large bell peppers mostly 4.00; yellow corn was steady to firm at 2.50-2.75 per crate of five dozen fancy and some fair 2.00; no white was offered; celery held at 2.15-2.25 for Pascal 3-dozen size; radishes were still 4.00 per crate of 48s and 2.25-2.50 on 30s in baskets; yellow crookneck squash ranged 2.75-3.50 and large or fair mostly 2.00-2.50 bushel; blackeyed peas were mostly 2.25-2.75 and Crowders 2.50-3.00 best to 3.50 and poorer low as 2.00.

Wheat, Rye, Beans Higher

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—New crop corn futures sold off while new crop soybeans bounded ahead in active dealings on the Board of Trade today. This contrasting action followed overnight announcement corn planted outside of acreage allotments in the commercial producing area this year would be supported at $1.25 a bushel.

Wheat started easier; then climbed steadily throughout the day, ending with fair-sized gains. Rye jumped several cents. Oats sold off with corn.

Wheat closed ⅝-1⅞ higher, corn ⅝-1⅛ lower, oats ⅝-⅝ lower, rye 2⅜-3¼ higher, soybeans ¼-3½ higher and lard 5 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Some traders felt the announcement corn would be supported even though farmers didn't adhere to acreage allotments would mean some shifting from soybeans to corn in the Midwest. That accounted for the action of those commodities.

Insurance Parley Here Told Business Outlook Is Bright

Business and consumers share an optimistic outlook for the immediate future, top-flight executives from 66 life insurance companies over the nation were told here Tuesday.

"Business confidence is reflected in the truly amazing high level of outlays for plants and equipment,"

J. M. Bryan　Henry Edmiston

FIRST MEETING HERE

ALC President Joseph M. Bryan of Greensboro said the group, holding its first regional meeting in Atlanta, were "amazed at the industrialization and expansion in the South."

Three Georgia life insurance companies, members of ALC, were hosts to delegates at a two-day meeting that ended here Tuesday. Host firms were Life Insurance Co. of Georgia and Piedmont Life, both of Atlanta, and the Bankers Health and Life of Macon.

R. Howard Dobbs Jr., president of Life of Georgia, was chairman of the local committee, assisted by Al B. Richardson, vice president of the same company.

SEES 22 PCT. RISE

Edmiston told the conferees that every economic factor confirms his own optimistic picture of good business ahead. He said business spent almost $29 billion in 1955 but that capital expenditures this year are expected to reach $35 billion, a 22 per cent increase.

He added the extraordinary volume of economic activity points to a continued heavy demand for long-term money and firm interest rates.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—The cotton textile market was steady Tuesday. There was no improvement in business. Converters still bid for sizable amount of print cloths for second half of the year delivery, but at levels under mill quotations.

The wool goods market was steady. Reorders for fall woolens and worsteds on the better quality fabrics improved. The Sydney wool market was higher, according to private Australian advices.

Rayon goods were slow. Some converters hesitated to make commitments on the possibility that the weakness in tire yarn might extend to textile rayon yarn. Producers insisted this would not develop, because prices are considered already very low.

NEW FORK TRUCK DEVELOPMENT

Yale "integrated design"

...now makes available a complete new line of fork lift trucks incorporating—for the first time in the industry—premium engineering advances as standard features.

Result of a 3-Year Research and Development Program

Yale combined 3 years of intensive research, development and field-testing to meet the urgent need of every industry for a complete line of gas, diesel, LP-gas and electric fork lift trucks which would assure increased safety, speed and efficiency. The result is Yale "Integrated Design"—the incorporation of the latest engineering and design advances as standard features in a complete new line of fork trucks that not only give management positive control over handling costs through high efficiency operation, but also reduce operator fatigue and promote operator safety.

Yale "Integrated Design" offers a complete choice of fork trucks, engineered to eliminate all handling-cost waste by meeting each industry's specific requirements for power, capacity, efficiency, safety, versatility and operator comfort. All the critical features necessary for maximum performance and minimum handling costs are built in as standard features throughout the entire Yale fork truck capacity range of 2,000 to 10,000 pounds!

New fully-automatic Yale Torque Transmission provides an infinite ratio of speeds and an automatic response for every power demand in starting or climbing grades under all load conditions. Coordinated inching control permits smooth, accurate maneuvering when high engine speeds are required for fast lifting. Forward or reverse travel motion is obtained by the mere flick of a switch located on the steering column. Standard Transmission and Fluid Coupling are also available in all capacities.

Self-adjusting hydraulic wheel brakes. An original Yale development (now, like many other Yale firsts, adopted by the industry), these brakes, of increased capacity in the new Yale truck line, are mounted directly to each drive wheel for easier, faster stopping without jolting or load damage.

New Yale power lift is faster, smoother. Along with increased travel speeds, all new Yale truck models feature an improved roller channel construction that prevents hose damage and increases visibility. Side-thrust rollers reduce stress and compensate for off-center loading. Incorporated are other Yale-pioneered features: the anti-cavitation or unloading valve that eliminates channel sway; the flow-regulator valve that assures smooth lowering control without excessive speed.

New Yale "convenience styling." New Yale trucks are lower-built, more streamlined. Lowered cowls, "open vision" uprights and recessed, adjustable seats add to the visibility and protection of the operator. Yale "convenience styling" increases operator efficiency with controls for hoisting, lowering, tilting of channels and operation of attachments positioned for easy, right-hand operation—leaving the left hand free for steering. Instruments are waterproofed and recessed for protection in the lowered cowl, where they are centrally grouped for easy reading. Yale's fuel tank holds sufficient fuel for a full shift's operation, is easily removable and heavily protected within steel sections. The "swing out" battery permits quick servicing and engine accessibility. The Yale-developed one-piece steel drive axle housing with pressed-in steel alloy sleeve assures longer life.

1956 Yale electric trucks incorporate many of the above construction features with such Yale electric truck features as multiple-speed design (four forward, four reverse) based on Yale's exclusive, patented, Magnetic Cam-O-Tactor controller providing smooth acceleration without "jumping" a speed range, and the dead-man control built into the seat to set mechanical wheel brakes when the operator leaves the truck.

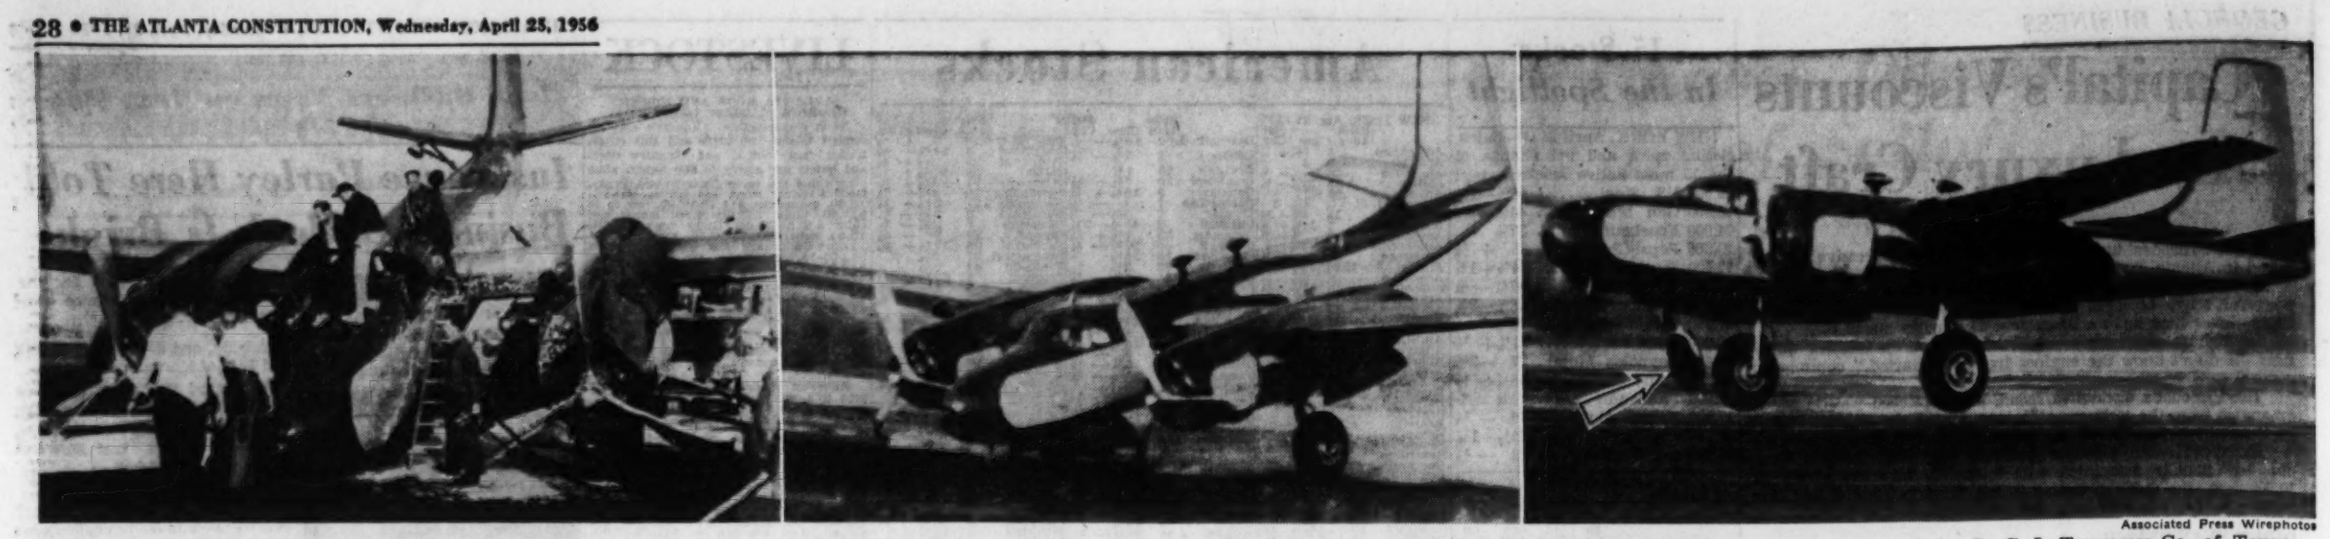

First public showing of new Yale line. See new Yale trucks in action at the Materials Handling Institute Exposition in Cleveland, June 5 to 8. Assess for yourself the industry's most significant advances in industrial lift truck design. DRAMA ON THE RUNWAY—PORTLAND, Ore., April 24—Disaster was averted here yesterday when the pilot of this troubled plane crash landed, permitting himself and four passengers to leave the damaged plane unhurt. The nose-wheel of the plane stuck (right), but Pilot Chuck Hammett, Longview, Tex., decided to land anyway. He shifted passengers to the tail to keep the plane from nosing over as he landed. The propellers banged the runway, and smoke rose from the plane (center) soon after contact was made with the earth. No fire broke out as a result of the landing, as air base firemen sprinkled the plane with foam after it skidded to a stop. Vice President R. L. LeTourneau of the R. G. LeTourneau Co. of Texas, owner of the craft, emerged from the plane unhurt. Col. G. F. Ceuleers (light trousers) helps LeTourneau from the cabin.

Mobile Seen Favored by Frisco Bid

SAVANNAH, April 24 (AP)—Cross-examiners of a Frisco line witness sought to show Tuesday that south Atlantic ports competing with Mobile, Ala., would suffer by Frisco control of the Central of Georgia. This was a highlight of the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here on the Frisco application for control.

Appearing as a delayed witness for the Frisco was Lt. Gen. Louis Pick (U.S. Corps of Engineers, ret.), who predicted a great increase in shipments from the Midwest to the Southeast, and a corresponding increase in Southeastern port activities.

QUIZ GENERAL

But what Illinois Central and Seaboard attorneys wanted to know of Gen. Pick was would sole ownership by Frisco of the Central of Georgia favor Mobile on midwestern shipments to the detriment of competitive ports, Savannah in particular?

It was brought out that Mobile now is Frisco's sole port outlet in the Southeast, and acquisition of the Central of Georgia would give it an additional outlet in Savannah.

ALABAMA PROMOTER

The general admitted he is primarily interested in Mobile since he is director of the Industrial Planning and Development Board of the State of Alabama, and said the Frisco already has expended promotional efforts in behalf of Mobile.

And Gen. Pick said that "Any promotional efforts the road (Frisco) would take from Mobile to Savannah would not be of any great advantage" to either port.

Yesterday R. T. Etheridge, Seaboard assistant vice president, expressed fears his road would suffer loss of traffic in connections with the Central should the Frisco line be given exclusive control.

Canada Security Tracer List Out

Regional SEC administrator William Green said the list is issued primarily to put brokers and dealers on notice that their trading in the restricted securities may make them subject to prosecution under the Securities Act of 1933.

The list—which involves mostly mining and oil stocks—is available from the SEC in the Peachtree-Seventh Bldg.

Curtain Wall To Be Shown

Premiere showing in the southeast of Gridwall, a revolutionary new system of curtain construction, will be held Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel.

The showing will be sponsored by The Southern GF Company of Atlanta, president Louis Aronstam said.

All local architects, engineers, their staffs, and others interested in this wall concept have been invited to attend the showing of the patented new system.

2-for-1 Seaboard Stock Split Boosts Common Shares to 10 Million

NORFOLK, Va., April 24 (AP)—A two-for-one split of Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co. common stock was announced here Tuesday.

Already approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the split increases the number of shares of authorized common stock to 10,000,000 with a par value of $20 per share.

After the stock split there will be 4,898,950 shares of $20 par value common stock outstanding in the hands of the public. There is no present intention to issue any of the remaining 5,101,050 shares, Smith said.

All directors of the company were reelected.

Weeks Denies Transport Plan Unfair

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks today denied that the administration's new transportation policy would enable railroads to drive the trucking industry out of business and then boost rates.

Weeks, chairman of a presidential advisory committee which drafted the new policy, testified at the start of a House Commerce subcommittee's hearings on bills to carry out the proposals. In general, these would reduce the rate-regulating powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

The proposed changes have been, on the whole, supported by railroad spokesmen and opposed by trucking industry representatives.

"It has been suggested," Weeks told the subcommittee, "that the railroads can and will reduce rates below the compensation level, drive the trucks off the road, and then put the rates up again to the public's disadvantage."

But the secretary contended this would not take place, first, because the proposed legislation would not reduce the power of the ICC over "rates which are less than a reasonable minimum."

Moreover, he said, the trucking business is flexible and would be quick to move in if the railroads attempted to raise prices unduly.

He summed up what he said would be the over-all effect, "each type of carrier will get what it deserves in competition, without preference or discrimination."

SleepPillsFell Son of Screen Star Robinson

Young Robinson, 23, son of the famous actor, has been arrested several times in drunkenness cases, and once was accused of holding up a taxi driver, a charge on which he was acquitted.

Lewis, who has known Robinson since he was a baby, told police that he received a call at 4:50 a.m.

"Manny (the youth's nickname) said he had taken an overdose of sleeping pills," Lewis later told police. "He apparently got scared. He's a mixed-up kid. A very lonely kid."

Robinson gave no reason and police found no note. They said he had been drinking. Doctors worked hard over him and one medico at Santa Monica Hospital reported: "We almost lost him."

Solicitor Charge Of Lie Brings Mistrial Here

A mistrial was granted Tuesday night in the trial of a 53-year-old Atlantan because the prosecuting attorney said that a remark made by the defendant in his statement to the jury was a lie.

Fulton Superior Court Judge E. E. Andrews declared the mistrial after ruling that he did not believe the defendant, Charles L. Stubbins, could receive a fair and impartial trial.

Stubbins had been on trial Monday and Tuesday on three charges of enticing minors for the purposes of molesting them.

In his statement, Stubbins said the trial solicitor, J. C. Tankersley, knew that a detective had engaged in immoral relations with some of the boys. The solicitor rose and said "If the defendant is saying what I know, that is a lie."

AGD Automotive School Winds Up

The Atlanta General Depot's Ordnance Automotive School at Conley closed Tuesday. Lt. Col. Avon Bauman, school commandant, presented certificates to 13 graduates, the last of some 50,000.

The facilities are being moved to Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. Of the 119 civilian instructors employed at the school, a large number has moved to Aberdeen.

Emory Enrollment Up 6 Pct. to 3,249

Emory University enrollment for the spring quarter of 1956 shows an increase of almost 6 per cent over the comparable period last year, the registrar's office said.

Total enrollment is 3,249. The Atlanta campus gain is 11 per cent.

'DANGEROUSLY DILATORY'

Adlai Asks Speed-Up Of Missile Project

By LEO EGAN

NEW YORK, April 24—Two of the leading candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination today called for a revision of American policies in view of Russia's impending completion of an intercontinental missile with a hydrogen bomb warhead.

Adlai Stevenson, arriving in New York to stimulate the fund-raising effort of his supporters, declared the Soviet announcement called for speeding up the United States guided missile project. He said the Eisenhower administration had been "dangerously dilatory" in this field.

THREAT TO BRITAIN?

N.Y. Gov. Harriman interpreted the assertion made by Communist party leader Khrushchev as a threat to Britain. Its purpose in his view was to frighten Britain into ejecting the United States from its airbases and withdrawing from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Soviet tactic, according to the governor, pointed up the need for avoiding offense to neutral nations. As one example of what should not be permitted to recur, Harriman cited the American stand on the Portugese colony of Goa. This, he declared, had incensed India.

ENORMOUS STRIDES

"I think it is time that we awakened to the fact that the Soviet Union has made enormous industrial and technological strides and that we can no longer assume that we shall be permanently the stronger," he declared in a formal statement read at the opening of the conference.

"As much as we abhor the Communist system, it has long been apparent that it is capable of sustaining a massive military production," he went on. "And a projectile can be aimed with accuracy even though it has been manufactured by workers who are ill-clothed, ill-fed and ill-housed and ever in deadly fear of the police and the plant manager.

"I have suggested that we should take a step toward peace by stopping further tests of hydrogen bombs. But the means of delivery, by guided missiles or airplanes, is another question and it is evident that we must renew our efforts in the whole area so that we shall not find ourselves subject to power-political blackmail."

NO INCONSSISTENCY

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate insisted there was no inconsistency between his proposal to stop hydrogen bomb tests and to intensify guided missile research and development.

"From now on in fighting the cold war we must rely not merely upon military power but upon earning the friendship, respect and trust of people by conduct worthy of our traditions and by a foreign policy equal to our needs. It is absurd that our administration should let the Soviets get away with the fraudulent claims that they are the true partisans of peace."

Hookworms Help Treat Blood Defect

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

Hookworms are good for something: They are being used in the treatment of polycythemia vera. In this blood disorder, the number of red cells and the amount of hemoglobin are increased markedly.

A reduction in blood is beneficial to the patient and here is where the hookworm comes into the picture. The critter causes bleeding when it lives in the human intestine.

But the worm method is not illogical because bloodletting also is a popular treatment; polycythemia is one of the few conditions in which this age-old maneuver still is used with success. Hookworms serve the same purpose in relieving the individual of excess blood.

Polycythemia is normal among people who live at a high altitude. The condition is associated with a variety of pulmonary and cardiac disturbances, which explains why the blood count is elevated in victims of chronic bronchitis, asthma, emphysema, and congenital heart disease.

In such instances, the red corpuscles increase because the body has difficulty obtaining sufficient oxygen. Here polycythemia is helpful and needs no treatment.

If the disease develops without reason, the overabundance of red cells and hemoglobin makes the person uncomfortable. He develops headache, flushes, and a sensation of fullness in the head and is clumsy and unsteady. The hands and feet burn and tingle.

These symptoms disappear when some blood is withdrawn and the count returns to normal. But the results are temporary because in this disorder the bone marrow is overactive and the lost blood is replaced within a week or two.

Radioactive phosphorus depresses bone marrow activity but is not always recommended because there are secondary reactions. Bloodletting is as effective but less practical because it must be done at frequent intervals.

In the hookworm regimen, hundreds of larvae are placed on the skin, which they penetrate in a short time. The immature worms migrate into the blood stream and are liberated into the lungs.

They are coughed up during the ensuing irritation and reach the stomach when the sputum is swallowed.

ONCE IN A WHILE
IN THE GROWTH and development of a company, at times there is opportunity for a new man to get himself set for life. Our multimillion dollar company is at that point today, and we have not one but several opportunities for sincere men and women.
BEING on the spot at the psychological moment is often the lucky break you often hear about. Previous work history is unimportant, and if you own a car, are 21 years old or more, we can train you to qualify in a short time for a manager's job with earnings unlimited. A 15-minute interview will amaze you.
YOU will represent a legal reserve company, selling the finest type of hospitalization contact. If you are serious and mean business, stop in and talk it over. Suite 109, 873 Spring St., NW.

SALESMAN
PROMOTABLE
LONG ESTABLISHED landscape advisory company has opening for man, without experience in our field, who has ambition and aptitude for sales management. Right man will qualify for promotion in 4 to 6 months and will be moved into a position with income between $8,000 and $12,000 yearly; on percentage overwrite bonus. Person chosen will receive thorough product and field training. Openings exist for qualifying person to be further promoted to position with income in excess of $20,000. If you are a high-caliber man who is looking for a good-paying sales position with a future, call J. G. Humphreys, Imperial Hotel, 1-5 p.m.

SALESMAN,
Are You Tired Of:
1. No leads?
2. Other salesman getting the business you have worked hard to develop?
3. House accounts?
4. Too many hrs. on the road?
5. Selling direct without opportunity for advancement?
6. No year-end bonus?
7. Unprotected territory?
8. Training without pay?
9. Canvassing for a company that has no national advertising?
10. Running into difficulties of selling because your company is new and not well known?
IF SO, call 47-5228, Mr. Butler after 9:30 a.m. We are a large national manufacturer, doing business since 1892.

DO YOU LIKE GIRLS?
Do You Like Nice Clothing?
IF THE answers are all yes, then you must like money. Come to 311 Peachtree any day from 9 to 5 and Mr. Coles will tell you how to earn the money to get all these things. Our salesmen all earn well over the $150-per-week mark, and none of our boys ever had a day of previous experience in selling. We train them from the start. We work from qualified leads that guarantee to close 50% to 70% of your calls. Our product is a nationally known necessity that sells itself. We can use 12 men but will consider more if they qualify. All you need to qualify is a car and a genuine desire to become a salesman. No age limit.

Russian Cruiser Destroyed By Own Mine, Rome Is Told

ROME, April 24 (AP)—A responsible informant said today that a Soviet cruiser was sunk in a Soviet mine field in the Baltic harbor of Kaliningrad (Koenigsberg) recently with heavy loss of life.

The disaster precipitated an intra-government dispute which led to the firing of Adm. Nikolai Kuznetsov as commander in chief of the Soviet navy, the source reported.

A dispatch from Moscow April 7 reported that Kuznetsov had been replaced as Soviet navy boss by Adm. S. G. Gorshkov, wartime commander of the Soviet Black Set fleet. The dispatch, which passed through the Russian censorship, said Kuznetsov was officially described as too ill for the job. The real story was described as entirely different.

The informant said that the lost cruiser was a former Italian vessel turned over to Russia as war reparations. He gave the name as the Novosibirsk.

Naval sources in Rome said Italy turned over the 7,300-ton cruiser Duca d'Aosta in 1948 to Russia. It had a normal complement of 560 men.

Police Right on Job At Peachtree Fire

Ptl. C. R. Henslee and J. T. Mitchell said they were driving along in the 500 block of Peachtree when they noticed black smoke pouring out from the hood of the patrol car.

The patrolmen quickly parked and placed a radio call to the fire department. Firemen extinguished the blaze, which was believed to have been started from a faulty carburetor.

Guard State Laws, Congress Asked

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., April 24 (AP)—Legal spokesmen for Southern states asked Congress today to clarify its intent that its future acts shall not exclude state laws on the same subjects.

The request was contained in a resolution adopted unanimously by the Southern Regional Conference of Attorneys General at the concluding session of a two-day meeting.

Another resolution asked Congress to enact legislation permitting the states to exercise concurrent jurisdiction in the field of sedition and subversiye activity.

The resolution asking Congress to make it clear it does not intend to push state laws out the window was titled "Rules of Construction to Guide the Supreme Court." It expressed alarm over the Supreme Court's "increasing tendency . . . to hold that enactments by Congress operate to exclude or supersede any state laws on the same subject matter and to preempt the field for federal occupancy."

Such extensions of federal power, the resolution stated, "impinge directly upon the powers reserved to the states and the citizens thereof by the 10th Amendment to the Constitution, and thus present a real threat to the continued independence and integrity of the states."

The resolution asked Congress to make clear its intent that none of its future acts shall be construed to exclude any state laws on the same subject matter unless "such congressional act contains an express provision to that effect, nor shall such congressional act invalidate a provision of state law which would be valid in the absence of such act unless a power expressly granted to the federal government by the Constitution of the United States is involved."

Women Voters' Election Today

The Atlanta League of Women Voters will meet Wednesday to elect officers to replace those who resigned last month.

The meeting will be at the Atlanta Public Library auditorium at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Harry Dunstan has served as acting president of the league since March 30, when 11 officers resigned after the league failed to adopt a resolution upholding the exclusion of Negroes.
